WAR PREPARATIONS BRINGING WAVES OF ANXIETY TO FRANCE

The Saar Looked Upon as Danger Spot — French Government Considers Germans Obviously Making Ready for Recourse to Arms at Time of Plebiscite

PARIS, Oct. 31 (CP-AP).—Fears that war preparations may lead to war were expressed today, in high quarters. The warning which Marshal Henri Petain, Minister of War, gave recently that France must prepare for a shock, and the statement that Germany is becoming formidable, voiced the official feeling and caused a general wave of anxiety, especially along the frontier of the Saar basin.

On the heels of the private remark of a Cabinet member that he believed "France faces a state of war," Pierre Laval, Minister of Foreign Affairs, remarked guardedly in a press conference tonight: "We have slipped back into the middle ages. Civilization is going to pot. We must defend it."

GLOOMY PREDICTIONS

The members of the finance committee, after hearing the "victor of Verdun," said today, they expected not only to make heavy military expenditures outside the budgeted amount for national defence but predicted that the Government would soon ask the lengthening of the military service, perhaps doubling the number of effectives.

The Saar is frankly considered a serious danger spot in view of the plebiscite in January, when it votes whether to stay under League guidance, join France or return to Germany. The French determination to throw troops into the plebiscite area the moment the Saar is continued on Page 2, Column 1

NEWFOUNDLAND LOWERS TARIFF

New Schedule of Import Duties Approved With Better Conditions

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Oct. 31 (CP).—Tariff reductions totaling $650,000 on the basis of last year's imports were announced tonight by Hon. Thomas Lodge, Newfoundland's commissioner of public utilities. Speaking for Hon. E. N. B. Tremblay, commissioner of finance, he said the new schedule of import duties had been approved by the United Kingdom Government and would be effective on December 31.

FLOUR NOW FREE

Under the new schedule, flour, wheat meal, wheat and raw fruit are placed on the free list. The duty on flour was formerly fifty-one and a half cents per barrel, and the change involves a customs loss of $212,000.

Reductions on clothing involve a loss of $120,000, according to last year's trade. A British preference of 10 per cent on machinery and certain other goods is included in the schedule. As inducements to the scheduled purchasing, the duty on motor cars and bicycles is reduced 35 per cent; on radio sets, pianos and musical instruments the duty is reduced from 65 to 30 per cent.

THINGS ARE BETTER

"If things are not yet good, they are at any rate better than in the corresponding period last year," said the commissioner in announcing the new tariff system. Revenues were higher, railway earnings were better and alcoholic consumption was 10 per cent higher in St. John's and 25 per cent up in the outposts.

AMENDMENTS TO BILL ACCEPTED

Contentious Disaffection Legislation Passes Report Stages in British House

LONDON, Oct. 31 (CP).—The Government's intention to Disaffection Bill passed through report stages in the House of Commons tonight, but several amendments were written into it during the brief two-day debate.

An amendment by the Labor Opposition providing that a search warrant should be issued only by a high court judge and not, as originally proposed in the bill, by two magistrates, was accepted by the Government. A further change was made when the Government accepted an amendment providing that no prosecution could take place without the consent of the director of public prosecutions.

The bill purports to check distribution of seditious literature among the forces of the Crown.

The pegging of the price, on a Fort William basis, was made by the grain exchange at the request of the Federal Government.

Hunter Killed When Climbing Over Fence At Strawberry Vale

Thomas Henderson Douglas Found With Terrible Head Wound by Relative — Coroner's Inquiry Renders Verdict of Accidental Death

ACCIDENTAL death was the verdict given by Coroner Dr. E. C. Hart after holding an inquiry, yesterday, into the death of Thomas Henderson Douglas, aged fifty years, of Holland Avenue, Saanich, who was found in a field in the Strawberry Vale district, yesterday morning, with his scalp severed from his head by a discharge from a shotgun.

Dr. Hart found that an inquest was not necessary, the wound which caused the fatality, being of a character that could only be self-inflicted, and that, it was discovered, was done when Mr. Douglas was climbing over a wire fence.

The tragic discovery was made by the deceased's cousin, George Copthorne, of Holland Avenue. Mr.

Havoc Wrought by Gales That Sweep Island of Madeira

FUNCHAL, Madeira, Oct. 31 (CP-Havas).—The Island of Madeira was swept by gales today which tore up trees, destroyed crops and washed out roads. At Camarade and Lobos floods carried away buildings and completely interrupted telegraphic communications.

CONFERENCE STALEMATED

Japanese Firm in Demanding Naval Equality With Britain and U.S.

LONDON, Oct. 31 (AP).—Japan tonight stood firm on her demand for naval equality, and tri-power conversations seeking an agreement for limiting sea weapons were at a complete stalemate. The never-say-die negotiations representing Great Britain, the United States and Japan decided, however, to continue their conferences indefinitely, hoping something unforeseen may develop to break the deadlock.

STANDING FIRM

Japan's delegates, Ambassador Tameo Matsudaira and Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, were firm in their assertions that Japan will not abandon her insistence that she is entitled to equality with Britain and the United States on the high seas. The Americans, Norman H. Davis and Admiral William H. Standley, were equally emphatic in declaring the principles of the Washington treaty, which gave Japan only three-fifths the armaments allowed the United States and Great Britain, must be continued.

Great Britain's position, although differing from that of the United States in technical details, was substantially the same in its broader outlines.

Meanwhile, the British and American delegates turned their attention for the time being to another question of moment, the disarmament conference.

Their purpose, it was learned, is to postpone the conference until next year, as prospects for successful deliberation in November, they believe, are not bright.

NO FAVORITE IN THE ADMIRALTY

First Lord Suggests Independent Inquiry Into Placing of Contracts

LONDON, Oct. 31 (CP).—Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, First Lord of the Admiralty, today in the House of Commons suggested for an independent inquiry into the placing of contracts by the Admiralty for naval construction.

The suggestion followed a statement by the First Lord denying reports that the powerful armaments and shipbuilding firm, Vickers-Armstrong, had "a friend in the Admiralty."

Discussing letting of contracts by the Admiralty, Sir Bolton told the House: "I have satisfied myself by a complete inquiry for myself" that no favoritism existed. Then he went on:

"I offer to the House an independent inquiry as to how we place our contracts. I do not think I can do more than that."

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald announced yesterday when the House resumed that facilities would be given for discussion along these lines, and today this was supplemented by the announcement that November 8 was the date set apart for debate on the manufacture and trade in armaments.

DECIDE ON INQUIRY

The British Government has decided to establish an inquiry into the private manufacture and sale of war materials, it was stated in political quarters tonight. Official confirmation, however, was lacking for the present.

It was believed the Government would also propose that other nations join a conference to discuss the manufacture and exportation of arms with a view to securing a convention establishing international control.

Such a conference, it was suggested, might take the place of the Disarmament Conference.

STAMPS TO PORTRAY THE PEACEFUL GERMAN

BERLIN, Oct. 31 (CP-Havas).—The Reich Government announced today that a series of postage stamps will be issued depicting the peaceful activities of the German people.

The stamps, which will be of five to seven pennings in value, will be issued early in 1935 and the proceeds devoted to charity.

All churches above this number, the decree provided, will be used as schools and public libraries. The action, favorable to the church in comparison with radical action in other states, was believed to have been taken to prevent priests ousted from other states from coming to Mexico to officiate.

A commission from Puebla appealed to the Federal Government to bar permanently from Mexico Archbishop Pedro Vera Zuria, who has been in Buenos Aires attending the recent Eucharistic Congress. The request was based on an allegation that the archbishop's presence at the conference proved he was "obeying the orders of a foreign government" (the Vatican).

Boy Prevents Explosion at Small Cost

ENTERPRISE, Ont. Oct. 31 (CP).—For ten cents an unidentified small boy risked death and probably saved this Frontenac County town from a serious explosion, it was learned today.

The trouble started when James Dwyer's mule balked in the middle of the main street and began kicking the front out of a wagon on which there rested a case of dynamite. Citizens fled in terror, shouting: "Beware, dynamite!"

The boy watched for a minute and then offered to lead the mule away for ten cents. He got the ten cents, unhitched the traces, and enticed the animal away with a lump of sugar.

New Army Air Base May Be Made in Malay Archipelago

Ministry Has Vast Plan to Expand Communications and Protect Outposts of British Empire—Three Aerial Routes Already Established

LONDON, Oct. 31 (CP-Havas).—Construction of an important military air base in the Malay Archipelago is being considered by the Air Ministry, it was learned today, in conjunction with its vast plan to expand existing air communications and protect the far-flung outposts of the Empire.

There are at present three so-called aerial "Empire routes"—one of them with regular air connection, the other with partial airplane service, and the third being contemplated. They are London-to-Melbourne, London-to-Cape Town, and London-to-Ottawa.

Regular air service on the Australian line at present goes only as far as Singapore, Straits Settlements. This, however, is soon to be expanded so as to link the British capital with Melbourne.

"Protection" of the Malay Archipelago by means of an air base, it was pointed out, is therefore a natural outcome of such aerial connection and at the same time a strategic measure of vital importance.

The weekly air service is in operation between England and Cape Town. Union of South Africa. It is continued on Page 2, Column 7

CRAFT SINK WITH ALL HANDS IN THE GULF OF ST. LAWRENCE

Hope Gone for Two Small Vessels Caught in Raging Storm — Thirteen Lives Believed Lost in Double Tragedy of the Sea—Four Make Land on Raft

Liner Badly Battered and Vessel Sinks Near Quebec

CLARKE CITY, Que., Oct. 31 (CP).—Sullen waters of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, calmed since the raging storm of Sunday night, tonight hid the fate of all hands and passengers of the small motorship St. Roi David and of a small schooner, name unknown, from St. Pierre et Miquelon.

Thirteen persons—possibly fourteen—are believed to have lost their lives in the worst marine tragedy in the gulf for several years. Wreckage from the St. Roi David has been found to bear witness that she foundered, while four of the crew of the schooner, including Captain Nicholas, struggled on a rude craft to Pigou, on Anticosti Island, to report two of their number had gone down with the vessel.

Word from the inaccessible territory around L'Île aux Oeufs trickled slowly into the pulp-making town to tell of the disaster. Rescue ships were speeding through the gulf, but up to a late hour tonight no bodies had been found from the St. Roi David, out of Quebec on a coastal trip.

ANTI-RELIGIOUS DRIVE GROWING

Many Priests Exiled, Others Arrested—Number of Churches Limited

MEXICO, D.F., Oct. 31 (AP).—While Mexico's Government moved today to smash an alleged Catholic revolutionary movement, anti-religious campaigns conducted by both Federal and state governments gained increasing headway.

A Catholic mission in Oaxaca, from which priests have been ordered expelled, and the bishop's residence in Oaxaca, was raided. Several priests, together with thirty-eight students, were arrested.

Meanwhile, the State of Mexico issued an order limiting the number of churches in the region in which services may be held to thirty-four, the same number of priests permitted to officiate in the state.

Other property seized, the decree provided, will be used as schools and public libraries. The action, favorable to the church in comparison with radical action in other states, was believed to have been taken to prevent priests ousted from other states from coming to Mexico to officiate.

A commission from Puebla appealed to the Federal Government to bar permanently from Mexico Archbishop Pedro Vera Zuria, who has been in Buenos Aires attending the recent Eucharistic Congress. The request was based on an allegation that the archbishop's presence at the conference proved he was "obeying the orders of a foreign government" (the Vatican).

YOUNG AVIATOR HAS COOL HEAD

Melrose May Win Handicap Race—Jones and Waller at Athens

MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov. 1 (AP).—C. J. Melrose, the solo flying young Australian, and Lieutenant M. Hansen, the Dane, both had completed the London-to-Melbourne flight today, coming in seventh and eighth, respectively.

When Melrose buzzed between the pylons at Flemington race course his reputation for coolness was considerably enhanced. Tagging behind him came the tale of how, yesterday, when he was lost eighteen miles from Charleville, he landed and hailed a passing motorist, seeking direction.

CASUAL CUSTOMER
"He's a casual customer, all right," said the motorist later, adding his verdict to that already expressed in England a month ago when the flyer stepped from the cockpit after an eight day and nine-hour flight from Australia with as little ostentation as if he had made a hop from the nearest airport.

Melrose, whose time allowance was the second greatest, was considered to have a good chance at a handicap prize, although the winners will not be decided until computations have been completed after the sixteen days deadline has been reached. Hansen's time allowance was the largest of all.

LAND IN ATHENS
Cathcart Jones and Ken Waller, the Englishmen who are back-tracking en route to London, landed in Athens and planned to resume the flight at daybreak.

FIRE DRIVES MEN FROM COAL MINE

Inspector Drops Dead When Testing Shaft After Blast Brought Under Control

CALGARY, Oct. 31 (CP).—Tragedy followed a fire in the International Coal Company's mine at Coleman, Alta., today. A mine inspector died after the fire had been controlled and two miners suffered minor injuries in making their escape from the shaft.

The fire was not extensive, officials reported, and 200 miners, given ample warning at the first sign of smoke, escaped without serious injury.

Testing a surface air shaft for gas, holding a caged canary in his hand, Moses Johnson, district inspector for mines in the Crow's Nest Pass field, dropped dead. He was testing the shaft following the fire and complained to a fellow-worker that he felt ill. Immediately afterwards, he collapsed and died. The cause of death was not immediately known.

The cause of the fire was unknown tonight.

Scintillating Revue Is Acclaimed by Audience

Local Theatre-Goers Lavish in Praise of "Marcus World o' Girls" Presentation—Scenery and Lighting Effects Feature of Show

Victoria, last night, received its first taste of "big time" road show this season, and liked it.

In a riot of color and a blaze of beauty, the A. B. Marcus "World o' Girls" Revue was presented to a near-capacity audience in the Royal Victoria Theatre.

Perhaps the features of the show were the scenery and lighting effects. Some of the scenery was used on the troupe's recent visit to the Orient, and its splendor made Victoria women gasp with sheer joy.

The song and dance numbers were well received, although some of the singers were difficult to hear. Lillian McCoy, Marshall Gates, the McBride Sisters, Danny Kaye and Lee Mason sang the songs.

ACROBATS CLEVER

The feature act, judging from applause, was the acrobatic offering by the Bounding All Babas, composed of Pete Rodriguez, Ben Ben Mohamed and Hassan Ben Said and three assistants. The group displayed a speed that dazzled the audience.

Ben McAtee and Elmer Coudy provided the chief comedy bits throughout the presentation, although sophisticated fun was offered by Leon Miller and Dottie Coudy. Danny Kaye, George Miller, G. Brown, Margo Busch, Lee Mason and Kathleen Young assisted the four principals in the "blackouts," which were sprinkled among the spectacles and specialties.

BEAUTIFUL SETS

For sheer beauty, and the "ohs" and "ahs" of the audience were plainly heard, the "Spanish Main" scene; "A Chinese Fantasy," which opened the second act; "Trees," "Lady With a Shawl," in which some gorgeous shawls were displayed by equally gorgeous stage beauties; and "Maid of Silver" were the most effective.

A novel presentation was the introduction of the Sing-Song Girls, of Soochow, and the Ginta Geisha governing commission should appeal for help is officially admitted as a warning to Germany against any attempt to resort to violence in the Saar, and an effort to be prepared for any eventuality.

MIGHT BE EXCUSE

Some deputies fear that Germany is nearly ready for war and that friction in the Saar might be utilized as an excuse to start the conflict. For a long time now statistics and theories have been bandied about tending to show that Germany is rapidly re-arming. The French Government itself accepts warlike preparations in Germany as obvious, but officials differ as to whether Adolf Hitler intends to make war or is only preparing as a matter of principle.

ELLSWORTH HAS BROKEN ENGINE

Bad weather, with the exception of two or three days since we arrived, delayed the landing and the complete assembly of the plane. When it was ready for flight, but before the engine could be sufficiently warmed, snow squalls and clouds obscured the sky and the trial flight was no longer possible. However, it was thought advisable to warm the engine thoroughly and give it a trial run.

ENGINE USELESS

After the engine had been warmed, there was a terrific jar and a snap and it was ascertained that something had gone amiss. An inspection showed that a connecting rod had bent, due to extremely high pressure caused by heavy lubricating oil in the combustion chamber of the cylinder, put there to prevent corrosion during the long voyage. Without a new part the engine cannot be run.

The Wyatt Larp will leave for Magallanes Wednesday morning, and a party not yet detailed will remain at Deception Island to overhaul the airplane engine thoroughly and get everything in readiness for the ship's return.

Rail Question Is Still Far From Settled

MOSCOW, Oct. 31 (CP-Havas).—The manner of turning over the Chinese Eastern Railway to Manchukuo, the question of guarantees of payment, and the actual inventory of stock which is to go with the railway are the three outstanding questions holding up conclusion of the railway sale negotiations, it was learned today.

After eighteen months of haggling the Soviet Union recently agreed with Japan and Manchukuo to sell the railroad for 140,000,000 yen.

Defence in Laundry Case
Claims No Objectionable
Noises at Plant

The case of John Dumas vs. the New Method Laundry, in which the plaintiff contends that the laundry disturbs him, and seeks an injunction to prevent alleged noises and vibrations from being continued, is still being heard by Mr. Justice Murphy in the Supreme Court here. The case for the plaintiff has been completed, and at noon yesterday the defence opened, with William F. Pinfold, president of the defendant company, testifying.

Mr. Pinfold said that he and the company had done everything to eliminate any chance of the objectionable features complained of. They had used everything of a mechanical nature that could be suggested to silence such things as the noise arising from the introduction of steam into the water tank. Mr. Pinfold, moreover, set out that he had visited the plant at all times and had tried to find the objectionable features complained of, but without being able to detect the noises.

SUPPORTS DEFENCE

A somewhat sensational turn was afforded in the proceedings yesterday afternoon, when Thomas Anderson, a marine and stationary engineer, testified for the defendant company. He said he had been asked by the plaintiff, Mr. Dumas, to come and hear the noises and feel the vibrations complained of. His evidence was a complete support of the defence. He stated he could not find any of the alleged troublesome features, and had told the plaintiff this and advised him to cease troubling about it.

Mr. Anderson told of having gone with other engineers and members of the City Hall staff and of making tests on the ground. The plant was free from everything that would make for the troublesome features which had been incorporated in the complaint of the plaintiff.

At the test made at the plant, everything was done that might bring about the troublesome noises, but without any results.

MAYOR TESTIFIES

Mayor Leeming was also a witness and testified to having had an investigation made of the plant by civic officials, and he and other members of the council had attended. There were no noises that could be heard, other than the usual street noises and mechanical operation.

Fred Butlerfield, British Columbia land surveyor and civil engineer, testified to having inspected the plant, and submitted details of the equipment for silencing noises in the tank.

Mr. Pinfold said in his evidence that he had listened to every complaint that the plaintiff made, and had sought from him any suggestions that would overcome what the plaintiff alleged he suffered from. Mr. Pinfold had tested for vibrations and noises in his own office, close to the tank complained of, and could not get any results.

F. C. Elliott appears for the plaintiff, and David Tait for the defence.

EXCHANGE "PEGS" PRICE OF WHEAT

board tomorrow, with the July future being added later.

MARKET IS ASSURED

Reference in the Grain Exchange's official statement that the Government agency would take up hedges on grain purchases, was interpreted as assurance that a market would be provided for the Western Canadian farmers' wheat.

It was also done to enable elevator companies to function in a normal way in the Dominion.

The announcement came from the exchange president, Roy W. Milner, after an emergency meeting of the council tonight. Mr. McFarland, informed of the council's action, said immediate Government action had been found necessary because of resumption of heavy selling in the Winnipeg pit by interests outside the Dominion.

A month ago, Mr. McFarland, who conducts Federal Government stabilization operations in the Winnipeg pit, made the charge that outside influence was directed at cutting down Winnipeg wheat prices. Two days ago he recommended to the Federal Government that control and restrictions of the Winnipeg pit operations be made effective. He also declared that Government stabilization efforts would continue.

IS TEMPORARY MEASURE

"There is evidence that the Winnipeg market is still the target of interests foreign to the wheat producer of Western Canada," said Mr. McFarland in commenting on the exchange council's action. "While the Government has in mind certain restrictions that will present a recurrence of the heavy selling operations witnessed during the past few months, it will take some little time to put these into effect.

"In the meantime, the Government is prepared to stand by and watch the demoralization of the Canadian farmers' market by interests outside the Dominion, and has therefore asked the officials of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to 'peg' prices until such time as regulatory action can be taken."

The Canadian trade as a whole was more or less exonerated by Mr. McFarland in connection with the selling pressure on the Winnipeg

STILL INCOMPLETE

The Ottawa plan is still incomplete. Contrary to assertions made recently by certain newspapers that such an airline would crystallize shortly, Lord Londonderry, Minister of Air, today announced in the House of Commons that the ministry envisaged no such move at present. These projected air defence and commercial plans for the Empire follow completion of a recent tour of 600,000.

ACCEPTS UNBALANCED BUDGET AS INEVITABLE

PARIS, Oct. 31 (AP).—An unbalanced 1935 budget for France was accepted as inevitable by Finance Minister Louis Germain-Martin today, after a vain effort to make receipts and expenditures meet. The deficit is estimated at more than 500,000,000 francs (about $33.5 million).

Urges Government Control of Fishing In the Maritimes

Nova Scotia Professor Advocates Control of Industry Through Co-operatives in Evidence Before Mass Buying Commission

OTTAWA, Oct. 31 (CP).—Government regulation and control through co-operative measures holds the salvation of the fishing industry of the Maritime Provinces, the Mass Buying Commission was told, today, by Dr. M. M. Coady, of St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, N.S.

The time was not ripe to encompass the industry with Government edicts, the Maritime educationist said, but he believed co-operative associations should be fostered, so that control could be centralized in the fishermen themselves. He suggested that the Government should appoint field agents to increase the membership of the United Maritime Fishermen's Association.

"HORDE OF PARASITES"

For the second day, conditions in the Nova Scotia fishing industry

Digby County, N.S., is practically unknown, the commission was told by Lewis V. Bailey, a fisherman of Westport. The Maritime Fish Corporation, he said, bought almost all fish in the country and competitive prices were unknown.

Mr. Bailey said low prices was the primary cause for the industry to be at such low levels.

OFFERS SUGGESTIONS

A minimum price of three cents a pound on the average for cod and haddock was suggested by Mr. Bailey as a necessary step before the industry would regain its feet. He also recommended construction of a cold storage plant in the Westport area to assist fishermen in keeping bait in fresh condition.

Burton L. Wilcox, of Louisburg, described conditions among fishermen on Cape Breton Island. He said Louisburg fishermen last year averaged about $175 as net earnings, while St. Peter's and North Sydney fell to $100, and Glace Bay as low as $75. These returns forced the men to apply for Government relief to survive. He also blamed lack of competition among buyers for low prices.

WANTS LARGER GRANT

Organization of fishermen into a co-operative association was urged by Mr. Wilcox. He thought the Dominion Government should increase its grant to the United Maritime Fishermen's Association, so it could enlist more members and increase its bargaining power. The Dominion Government now pays $1,500 a year to the association.

"If prices are so bad why do the men stay in the business as fishermen?" asked Mr. Somerville.

"For the same reason that if you are playing poker, you keep on playing in the hope of winning," replied Wilcox with a grin, and the commissioners broke out in laughter.

SAILED OCEAN IN TINY SHIP

Baroness Von Fritsch Tells of Being Shanghaied and Crossing Atlantic

Taken from a life of ease and comfort in the German city of Kiel, and shanghaied aboard a thirty-foot motorized ketch, which immediately set sail across the dangerous North Atlantic Ocean, was the experience of Baroness Dorothea von Fritsch, member of a noble German family, who is now visiting Victoria.

Baroness von Fritsch, in an interview at the Douglas Hotel, last night, told, in a humorous manner, of her abduction from Germany, then abruptly explained that it was her own brother, Albrecht von Fritsch, and a friend, who took her to sea in the tiny vessel. The occasion of this adventure, the visitor explained, was the Fall of 1930, one year after she had returned to the Fatherland, after ten years' residence in Java.

WILD ADVENTURE

The voyage from Kiel was a wild and hectic adventure as the baroness described it. From the start, storms tossed the little sailing boat, and time and again threatened to dash it to pieces against the rocks along the western shoreline of Europe. In the stormy season, the adventures sailed into the treacherous Bay of Biscay, off Spain, and there they very nearly lost their lives. Eventually, the baroness explained, the vessel reached the Canary Islands, from where a course was set straight west for Jamaica, which port they eventually reached in safety. Later, they continued to Panama.

TOURS CANADA ON MOTORCYCLE

Donald Fisk, of Montreal, Completes Eventful Trip Across Continent

Donald Fisk, twenty-four-year-old Eastern field secretary of the Fellowship of the West, a boys' work group of the Anglican Church, was a visitor in Victoria, yesterday, after riding his motorcycle from his home in Montreal, to Seattle.

Mr. Fisk left last night for Vancouver, en route to Portland, Oregon, where he will travel over the Lincoln Highway direct to Montreal. He expects to arrive home on November 15.

Snow, ice, accidents and road difficulties did not deter Mr. Fisk from his purpose of visiting the West. He left Montreal on July 1, on his long motorcycle "jaunt." The longest single stretch on his way west was from London, Ont., to Chicago, a distance of 440 miles.

SERVES IN CHURCHES

Reaching Edmonton, Mr. Fisk left his motorcycle and traveled by car to the Peace River, block, where he spoke for pastors of three churches. He served as lay reader at some twenty-one points while in the Peace River District. At Swift Current, Mr. Fisk, while riding at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour, struck some loose gravel and crashed. He broke his foot and for ten days had to stay in his hotel.

However, he went on to Calgary, and a doctor there gave him crutches and a cast, the latter having to be worn for five weeks. With the crutches strapped on behind his motorcycle, Mr. Fisk continued his westward trek. The roads from Lake Louise to the United States bordered were "terrible for motorcycles," Mr. Fisk said.

At Hudson Hope, Mr. Fisk found an unusual state. One old resident of that town, aged eighty years, had never seen a motion picture, while many of the children had never seen a railroad train, he said.

AGED RESIDENT TAKEN BY DEATH

Mrs. John McLorie Dies at Home After Prolonged Sickness—Funeral Services Friday

A resident of Victoria for twenty-seven years, Mrs. Elizabeth McLorie, aged seventy-one, died, Tuesday, at the family residence, 934 Empress Avenue, after a prolonged sickness. She was the wife of John McLorie, who, for twenty-five years, was manager of the former Victoria branch of the Mount-Royal Milling Company.

The remains are resting at Sands Mortuary and services will be held in the funeral chapel, tomorrow, at 3:30 p.m. Interment will be made in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Mrs. McLorie was well known in the city, having made many friendships during her long residence here. In earlier days she was an active worker and member of the First United Church here, but of late years her health had confined her to the home. She was also a member of the King's Daughters.

Born in Wigtown, Scotland, Mrs. McLorie came to Canada fifty-two years ago, and first settled in Montreal, where she lived for many years. Besides her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Agnes M. Perry, of Victoria; two sons, Hugh, of California, and Ian, of Victoria, and six grandchildren.

LAST RITES CONDUCTED

The funeral of Hugh Cameron, who passed away on October 26, was held yesterday afternoon. Relatives and a large gathering of friends attended the very impressive services, conducted by Rev. J. Smith Patterson. Many beautiful floral wreaths and sprays covered the casket, which was draped with the Union Jack. The pallbearers were J. Vail, J. Fyfe, L. R. Crossley and Andrew Cameron. The remains were laid at rest in Colwood Burial Park.

Fatal Fire Is Started By Cyclone

LONDON, Ky., Oct. 31 (AP).—A cyclone which wrecked two dwellings seventeen miles north of here tonight caused the death of Mrs. Emma Robertson, thirty-two, and four of her five children. They apparently were burned to death in a fire which started when the storm wrecked their home.

Their bodies and the body of their mother were found piled together in a bed, when the fire department arrived.

The storm wrecked the Robertson dwelling, leveled a store about 100 yards distant and blew down the mess hall at a relief camp.

LABOR LEADERS INEXPERIENCED

Blamed by English Industrial Peer for Failure of U.S. Recovery Act

LONDON, Oct. 31 (CP).—The House of Lords today heard a comparison between recovery methods employed by the Governments of Great Britain and the United States. Lord Melchett, industrial peer, interpreted failure of NRA in the United States as due partly to inexperience of her labor leaders, while Lord Hallam, Secretary for War, defended the United Kingdom's economic showing.

The Government has no reason to be ashamed of its record, the Secretary of War contended. Almost alone in the world, Britain had increased her production, revived her export trade and decreased her unemployment. The old standard of prosperity was a long way off, he said, but there was no reason to despair of ever reaching that goal.

DRAWN COMPARISON

Lord Melchett, speaking first, drew attention to the "unco-ordinated character of industrial organization in this country, and the fact that the principal industrial nations competing with us particularly the United States, Italy, Germany, Japan and Russia, had introduced systems of rationalized industrial control."

Dealing with the United States, Lord Melchett declared that one of the main causes of the failure of NRA was not the design of the codes set up in that country, but the fact that labor was in no position to assume the responsibility suddenly imposed upon it. There were no practised trade unions in the country, he said.

Few of the labor leaders had experience, but they were immediately sent to Washington and stuck there. In the factories were numerous men in responsible positions without any experience at all, and in many cases they made a "mess of things," he declared.

Lord Melchett termed NRA's greatest achievement its work in connection with the Anti-Trust Act. In reply, Lord Hallam cited figures showing the only country apart from Britain which showed improvement in trade was Japan, and, at least, it was reasonable to argue that her improvement might be attributed more to the fall in the value of the yen and the very low cost of Japanese labor, than to any increase in Government rationalization of industry.

B.C. Drama Organization Re-elects All Its Officers

Major L. Bullock-Webster Is President—Canadian Drama Award Policy Is Endorsed—Association Given Province-Wide Support

Major L. Bullock-Webster, who has long been identified with dramatic efforts in this city, was re-elected president of the British Columbia Drama Festival Association at its annual meeting held in the City Council Chamber last night.

All other officers also were elected by acclamation, and special tribute to the work carried out by the president during the past year was paid, when the members passed a standing vote of thanks.

Other officers chosen were as follows: Vice-president, Herbert E. Pott; secretary, H. Roy Goldfinch, and treasurer, Harold G. Hinton. The executive will be selected by these officers in the near future.

GIVEN SUPPORT

In presenting his annual report, Major Bullock-Webster stated that the festival movement had met with great support throughout the Province, and it was the hope of the executive that preliminary contests could be held in various districts in the future.

Sixty-three Little Theatre and other drama groups had worked in co-operation and in conjunction with the British Columbia Drama Festival Association during the last year, the president reported, while the association assisted sixteen groups in the past summer season.

The co-operation of eighty-six elementary school teachers throughout the Province had been secured in the effort to encourage an interest in drama in the schools, and the president felt that this would have a great stimulating effect, which would be emphasized in the years to come as the children advanced in their studies of the drama.

Looking to the future, the association hoped, the president declared, to be able to assemble a list of British Columbia dramatists and playwrights for free distribution to the members. A small magazine reporting the activities of the various drama groups had been launched, and it was hoped to be able to continue the publication of this magazine.

COULD CAPTURE BRITISH TRADE

Dr. E. W. Boak Addresses Queen's College Alumni at Social Gathering

Canada would be in a very much more favorable position to secure the British trade for some of her products if she could guarantee uniformly fine grade and undertake to deliver the required amounts, Dr. E. W. Boak told the forty members of Queen's University alumnae who attended the social evening at the Y.W.C.A. last evening, when he gave some impressions of his recent trip to England.

Although his talk was quite informal, he touched on a number of interesting phases of business and social life in London and the Provinces, and his comparisons between conditions when he last visited England in 1928 and conditions as he found them last Summer conveyed the idea that things are much improved. A conspicuous lessening in the number of beggars in the streets; crowded restaurants, hotels and movie houses; great increase in the number of airplane travelers, as well as the number of big touring cars of German, Italian and French make to be seen in England; and other evidences of returning prosperity and tourist travel were all favorable signs.

On the other hand, the coal-mining industry in Wales was not doing well, and shipbuilding on the Clyde was quiet. Reversing the condition found in Canada, railroads were doing a good business in freight-carrying, but the passenger trade had declined. Time tables were very convenient; the passenger rates were very cheap.

THE BETTER TERMS

The general feeling of those with whom he talked on the subject of trade agreements between Britain and Canada seemed to be that Canada had secured the better terms. When on the subject of Canadian products, Dr. Boak mentioned that he had seen Vancouver Island strawberries, from Sidney, selling in the Haymarket, London, for six cents a box.

Following Dr. Boak's talk and the vote of thanks, the proceedings became quite informal, the ladies serving refreshments. Mr. Cook presided, and J. W. Gibson led in the singing of a number of old Queen's College songs.

In addition to those already mentioned, the following were among those present: Hon. Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Weir, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Pringle, Miss Pringle, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ferguson, Dr. Helen Ryan, Mrs. B. P. Scourrah, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hume, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. J. B. Gibson, Mrs. V. S. Pritchard, Miss Sargent, Miss Turvo, Dr. Eber Crumphy and Miss Margaret Crumphy.

OCTOBER HAD RECORD WIND

Maximum Velocity Sixty-Two Miles An Hour—Unusually Mild Weather

Despite the fact that the sun did not shine for four days during the month, and that a new wind record for the month was established on October 21, when the velocity reached a maximum of sixty-two miles an hour, October was stated to be an unusually mild month, when F. Napier Denison, director of the Royal Observatory, issued his regular monthly report.

The sun shone for 149 hours and six minutes. This was seventeen hours above average. Rainfall for the month totaled 2.18 inches, or 65 of an inch below average. The total precipitation for the ten-month period was 19.76 inches, or 1.71 inches above average. This increase was due to the heavy rains last January.

Mean temperature for the month was fifty-two degrees, or one degree above average. The highest temperature was seventy-two degrees on October 10, and the lowest, forty-two degrees on October 15. The lowest on the gauge was thirty-one degrees on October 18.

DRAMA AWARD

The third, and most important future policy, was that of making a Canadian Drama Award to the person or persons having done the most outstanding work for drama in Canada. It would be very much like a Nobel Prize, inasmuch as it would give dramatists, and those interested in drama, some honor to strive for.

This policy, incidentally, was unanimously endorsed by the meeting, so that the executive will be empowered to proceed with the necessary arrangements. The idea, originating with the British Columbia Drama Festival Association, has been commended throughout Canada, and has been the subject of editorial comment.

Mr. Goldfinch, the secretary, in presenting his annual report, said that sixteen teams had entered the last drama festival in the senior class, and five in the junior class. Of the entrants, seven were entirely new clubs, while five of the teams were from outside points.

FESTIVAL DATES

The next drama festival, he said, would be held in the Shrine Auditorium from April 20 to May 4, 1935. Mr. Hinton, in presenting the treasurer's report, gave a statement of the bank balance, which showed that the balance of $98.00 on hand last year had been increased to $235.54 this year. He received a vote of thanks for his work.

Outside districts represented at the meeting were as follows: Roila, Salmon Arm, Pouce Coupe, Vancouver, Smithers, Terrace, Powell River, Port St. John, Williams Lake, Comox, Rutland, Nanaimo, New Westminster, Kitanoan, Port Moody, Vernon, West Vancouver, Cobble Hill and Vanderhoof.

RECIPROCITY WITH U.S.A.

Mr. Vincent Massey, who is a power in the Federal Liberal Party, has been hinting at the possibility that a plank in the platform of that party in the forthcoming Federal election will be reciprocity with the United States. Needless to say his utterances have inspired the Hearst newspapers to endorse such a possibility and to take the opportunity of attacking the Imperial economic pacts. The New York American believes reciprocity to be "rational and sound," and thinks Canada should disentangle herself from "false trade conceptions." In other words, the American newspaper's belief is that Canada has "shackled" her individual trade prospects by the Ottawa agreements, and hints that these pacts should be canceled and should never have been made, inasmuch as they stand in the way of a closer trade rapprochement with the United States. Possibly in this respect it voices the economic doctrine of Mr. Mackenzie King.

Strong exception to such a treaty is registered by Mr. Allan MacB. Stewart, a Canadian living in New York. He is persuaded that whatever the intentions of the authors of a reciprocity pact these could be defeated if not actually defeated in operation. There are associations in the United States, he says, which could exert pressure in the event of American interests being harmed by foreign importations. There is, too, he says, an excess manufacturing capacity in the United States. The writer cannot conceive what any interests in Canada are thinking about in encouraging talk of reciprocity, since the Dominion has nothing to gain and everything to lose through such a project. His opinion is that customs duties against American products should be raised in order to curb the volume of imports.

In their present frame of mind the American farmers will not permit Canadian farm products to cross the border. The American lumberman does not permit his profits to be cut by Canadian merchants can buy Canadian lumber at competitive prices. The American fisherman will not surrender his highly-protected market. At present the United States takes from Canada pulp and paper, nickel, undressed furs, asbestos, some coal, fish in some sections, and lumber products in certain areas, for geographical reasons, and also whiskey. These products are taken because they can be got as cheap, or cheaper, than anywhere else. Concessions made affecting other products would not mean that the United States would take more than she is taking now, for those concessions would be merely translated into reasons for a greater flood of imports into Canada.

"The accuracy of these statements," says The Montreal Gazette, "have been demonstrated through many years of international trading. Equally pertinent is Mr. Stewart's reminder that Canada at this juncture cannot afford to be allured into any step jeopardizing vastly more important factors. He speaks of the general trend towards national self-sufficiency and economic dependence, citing the examples of Japan, Italy, Finland, Russia, India and China and certain South American countries. His conclusion is that Canada should pay a great deal of attention to cementing good will and augmenting trade with those countries which are liberal buyers of Canadian natural and manufactured products. Reciprocity with the United States would drive a wedge between the Dominion and those customers who today are disgruntled because of their one-sided trade with Canada. The writer urges that purchases of manufactured products from Great Britain be increased even at some sacrifice to Canadian industry; otherwise Great Britain may divert much of her present buying power from Canada to other countries. The world is becoming more compactly knit, the law of supply and demand is becoming paramount, and Canada must cultivate the widest possible viewpoint with the world as its arena; it cannot afford to be governed by parochial ideas and schemes of economics such as are now being experimented with south of the border."

THE DOUGLAS SOCIAL CREDIT THEORY

In his favorite role as prophet of the glories of the coming day, the enthusiastic social reformer attracts much attention by his confidence, his fluency, and his descriptive power. When he is invited to leave off being a prophet and explain his plans in detail, when he puts a stopper upon the flow of his eloquence and undertakes to expound the method by which the new economic order is to be brought in, his performance is not so satisfactory, at any rate to the more hard-headed of his auditors. Exposition requires careful verification of observed facts, rigid accuracy in quoting from authorities, caution in drawing inferences, and clarity in all things. There is much difference between the easy soaring flight of the prophet and the pedestrian gait of the man of reason and common sense. The latter believes that the vague promptings and promises and oracular deliverances of inspiration ought to be checked and balanced by the clearly ascertained facts of experience.

Social reformers are well aware of their deficiencies in these respects, and do not like to attempt a reasoned and systematic exposition of the ways and means by which their reforms are to be brought about. Their tactics in thus refusing to face their problems have been exposed time and again, usually without result. Commonly they are content to waive all troublesome questions aside with an indifferent gesture and an assurance that these relate to mere matters of detail. Only once in a while are they provoked into making a serious reply. In such cases they are apt to reveal the odd mentality that sometimes marks the enthusiast.

An example occurred the other day when, in reply to a demand for clarity in explaining the method of the Social Credit scheme of Major Douglas, one of its supporters retorted: "Were his books as cryptic as the Egyptian Book of the Dead, he stands or falls by this test: Is he right or wrong?"

To form an opinion as to whether a man's ideas are right or wrong it is surely necessary first to find out what his ideas are. If he cannot, or will not, explain clearly what his system of Social Credit means, how can anyone know whether the gallant Major is right or wrong?

A QUESTION OF PERSONNEL

In the Queen Mary, the great Cunard-White Star liner recently launched, there are to be more elaborate precautions than have yet been devised for safety at sea. The water-tight compartments are more water-tight than ever before on any ship, a patrol force is to be organized, there are to be high-pressure water mains, smoke-detecting apparatus, fire extinguishers and well-lighted corridors. There will be lifeboats sufficient to hold every soul on board, no matter how full the ship; each of these will be motor-driven, each can be lowered by one man, with the engine running. The wealth of mechanical and chemical appliances to be installed on the giant ship is all that human ingenuity can suggest. At the same time there is a recognition that no matter what the equipment it may be insufficient if the human element fails. In this respect The London Times says:

"It is the view of most experts who have given careful study to the problem of increasing safety at sea, and particularly to the question of dealing with the fire risk, that, no matter what appliances may be provided for dealing with fire in passenger accommodations, it will always rest very largely with the personnel of the vessel as to whether or not a time of suspense, following the appearance of signs of fire, will develop into a period of general panic, or simply result in the orderly assembly of passengers at pre-determined points under the command of competent members of the ship's personnel."

AN APOSTOLIC PERSONALITY

A truly Pauline soul, who undertook apostolic labors with apostolic zeal, was Archbishop I. O. Stringer, who died suddenly in Winnipeg on Tuesday. "In perils oft," like the Apostle to the Gentiles, whether on the bleak wilderness, under the Arctic Circle, or in the hurricane-swept passes of the Yukon or when confronted by the tragedy of a trusted churchman's defalcations, the late Archbishop won through by an indomitable spirit reinforced by a sublime faith. That he loved his simple Eskimo folk and lived with them, along with his noble wife, for twenty years, testifies to his Christly spirit, a spirit which won the hearts of the men of the Yukon as it did the gratitude of his Church.

The Arctic is rich in heroes, and none more noble than the missionaries of the faith. Alongside its explorers, Franklin and Peary and the rest, are its evangelists, Bompas and Geddes and Stringer, and not the least was Isaac Stringer. Such as they cast a radiance as of an aurora borealis over the whole Church. Their spiritual parish extends beyond the Northland, beyond Canada, beyond the Anglican communion, and touches all souls who are sensitive to the high impulses of faith and love.

A good conversationalist is one who fathoms the interests of the one he converses with and confines his remarks to these. For the most part, however, he is a good listener.

MIRACLE MEN

The deplorable fact seems to be that the New Deal recovery plan is not working. Its promises remain unfulfilled. Its major policies are breaking down.

The President's intentions were, and doubtless are, excellent. His failure, as we see it, is due almost entirely to bad advice. He would not listen to the words of judgment and experience. Judgment and experience, in his eyes, were discredited and disqualified, because they had not stopped the depression. Neither would they promise miracles. He chose, therefore, to surround himself with impractical theorists who had no hesitation in promising miracles.

The brain-trust miracle men have failed to produce their miracles. They are today as completely discredited in the public eye as men of judgment and experience were discredited eighteen months ago in the eyes of the President. Nothing about the New Deal is popular today except its intentions, which are its tax-payers' money—which is everywhere accepted gratefully. When the money gives out, as it ultimately must, will anything be left save good intentions?—Chicago Daily News.

Wasn't there a book or something written about The Great Delusion? If there was such a book written, we have never read it, and therefore do not know what was The Great Delusion. But Mr. Gilbert Chesterton has written a book in which he exposes a curious delusion. That delusion is that the voter who marks and casts his ballot exercises some influence on the government of the country. If that is a delusion, it is a very common delusion. And if it is a delusion, why all the periodical turmoil over elections? Is it a delusion, too, that when a majority of voters vote one way, there is a change of government? Of course we have an inkling of what the rotund sage means. He means that a change of government does not necessarily involve a change in the methods of government; that the new government will continue to administer the affairs of the nation without reference to the ideas of the voters.

Mr. Chesterton calls himself a Socialist, although it is a fact that in many fundamental things he is a bigoted Tory. The Colonist already has pointed out that Socialists are not all of one species; that there are almost as many degrees of Socialism as there are leaders of Socialism. Mr. Chesterton is a man of rich imagination, and he probably imagines that if what may be called the orthodox and he is strong on the principles of orthodox systems of government were abolished and the theoretic and hydra-headed system advocated by Socialists were established, the individual voter might have his right voice in the government and the administration of the business of the nation.

But would the individual under a Socialist system be a more potent factor in government than he is under the orthodox system? If Mr. Chesterton were looking for an answer to that question, he might find it in what has happened in other countries which have experimented with Socialism and in some of the provinces of Canada which have dabbled with semi-Socialism.

The experience of France, Italy and Germany seems to us to have proved that it is not the voice of the individual which is of importance in the affairs of nations so much as the influence of the individual leader. There are different species of Socialism in all these countries.

The Socialist system of France is being modified and fashioned after the British parliamentary system in the hope of restoring political chaos to a state of political order. The members of the Chamber of Deputies are to be disciplined under the threat of general elections if they continue their system of periodically voting want of confidence in the government and thus endangering continuity of policies. That means limitation of the influence of the individual voter and strengthening the position of the individual leader. In Italy and Germany they have gone to another extreme and entirely eliminated the individual voter.

In name if not in fact France, Germany and Italy are all Socialist countries. The rulers of Russia call that country a Socialist republic, although in reality the form of government is that of a Communist dictatorship. Have the so-called individual voters of Russia (if any) a potent voice in the government of the country? Many observers have gone from other countries to try and find that out as well as to try and find out other things, but they have all returned and given either evasive or negative answers. Russia politically is still an undiscovered country.

The strange thing about those voyages of discovery is that although the adventurers are hardly ever persons of means, and the voyages of discovery and adventure must be somewhat costly, ways and means have been found to meet the expenses of the expeditions. Mr. Tom Uphill, a member of the British Columbia Legislature, is on his way to Moscow for the purpose of gathering data and enlarging his mind on the principles of Socialism or Communism, or whatever it may be that is practised in the Soviet Republic. The popular member for Fernie may not be a Communist in the altogether sense of the term, but if he is a Socialist he is a left winger of that cult, and it may be that when he is fully enlightened upon the principles of Sovietism, some of the light of that system may be shed within the gloomy halls of the Legislature.

The fulminations of Mr. Chesterton against the existing political and economic system and the conditions in the Socialist party of British Columbia remind us of the experience of one Martin Chuzzlewit when he arrived in New York. Meeting "one of the most remarkable men in America," Martin immediately after landing introduced one of the best-known characters in fiction as his servant. "Sir," said the great man, "there are no servants in this country." Then, said Martin, "the men in America must all be masters." Under the Socialist system there are no followers, only leaders, all leading along different ways.

THREE THOUSAND YEARS AGO

Sir,—When I read Mr. Moyes' first article I gathered he was trying to find if there was a way out of the economic muddle existing in the world today. He quoted authorities for his statements to be found in the Book of Genesis and therefore turned up and read the history of Joseph therein contained. I found Joseph and his brethren were Hebrews. This was known to Pharaoh and to the Egyptians of that time. I naturally wondered where he got the authority to call Joseph "a Jew." I then turned up my Bible concordance and discovered that a Jew or Jewish nation was not mentioned in the Bible, neither existed as a nation until the time of the Babylonian captivity of Judah. I merely drew his attention to these facts, from his own constituted authority, the Bible.

In his remarks on the economic question he asked: "If only one authority and one system of adjustment throughout the whole country were installed, would it considerably reduce the overhead charges of administration? Would it be more just and efficient in its disbursement of work and wages and so on?"

He stated further "the cancellation of all mortgages and debts may come later when necessity forces the policy upon our rulers in order to prevent a total collapse, etc."

Using his own authority, the Bible, I again requested he read the twenty-fifth chapter of Leviticus. He there, would find a Divine economic scheme outlined which I still think will meet the case. It deals with the banishment of usury, foreclosing of mortgages and debts. I also "wait and hope to see."

I regret he feels that "he is up to the neck in the theory of Socialism." I have no pet theory but the Bible, which he introduces to establish the basis of his first article.

I merely stated historical and ethnological facts when I pointed out his misstatement in quoting from Genesis with reference to Joseph's nationality. I have no authority "to give names to people to distinguish them from other people," save and except as history and the Bible reveals.

AN EXPLANATION

Sir,—During the month of September your paper showed in a picture the demonstration of Communists and Socialists with a Catholic priest, Abbe Derr, as representative of the Catholics against the reunion of the Saar Valley with the Reich of Hitler.

I sent directly this picture to the Catholic Bishop of Treves (Trier, Germany) to whom belong the Catholics of the Saar Valley, and told him the Catholics should not be united with the Communists and Socialists, greater enemies of Christianity, especially of the Catholic Church. They should protest alone, even if they are not satisfied with the Government of Germany. It was a scandal to see a Catholic priest united with the enemies of our religion and of any Christian religion.

He answered me: "I have received your plan of the reform of the calendar and read it with great interest. I believe the change of our calendar is necessary, and I wish your work the best success."

With respect to the picture of a newspaper which you sent me, I tell you that this priest, Abbe Derr, is not a priest of our diocese. He belongs to a society of missions, whose mother house is in Holland. Since several years he is living with his parents in the Saar Valley. It seems this mother house has no more power over him and cannot bring him back to the convent. He is now in France, otherwise he would be suspended by his congregation. As far as I heard, he was several times in a sanitarium for troubles of nervousness. —Francis Rudolf, Bishop of Treves.

FULLER APPRECIATION OF "MEANS"

Sir,—As a boy, whenever I thought of God, I thought of an elderly gentleman sitting on a throne. Like every other child I had my special definition of goodness. Later, I thought him a very talented person, a bit of a diplomat, who was rather inclined to adapt his products to the market place. And what was very strange, things that came my way as a matter of course, I was told were his gifts, and things I felt I wanted were either not good for me or were promised later for me in Heaven.

As I grew older, I realized that He can only give one thing and that was Himself; and that He cannot give more and cannot give less; for that which is Infinite is without limit. So Christ came; hear His proclamation: "Be of good cheer; I have overcome the world;" and this message permeates time, is optimistic, and suggests both war and victory. To a great many these words became a sort of dictum, and real spirit (God) was posited by them away in the distance. Hence ultimate Being was represented here on earth by institution; and that which in its nature transcended intellect was made known by revelation of which institution was interpreter and guardian. But what was overlooked was that to "interpret" it is necessary to draw upon the mind—the intelligence—but revelation is not necessarily of the intelligence.

The anthropomorphic views of my boyhood dispensed with, and which I had so long been wont to read the process of nature, made way for the process of mind. When he overcame the world as his standard for Himself and for us, that was not another way of saying that He wished to dehumanize the universe. Neither, I am sure, are truly necessary means relegated to an inferior status. Certainly not those which are instrumental towards progress and patience, and towards the building of good; plus faith with the intelligence, or without, in a loving Father. Fortunately institutions have a great deal to their credit and many high notes of sanctity; but unfortunately they also have a great deal to answer for. Their spasmodic attacks on ordered progressive government can only react on themselves; and leaves them nothing of merit on the wing. Moreover, the word "militant" when it refers to church matters has been so wangled and misinterpreted by those in power, and its fallacy handed down for expression in fanatical mobs that one begins to doubt its right place in religious history.

Quarrelling, arguing, fighting, murdering is simply that and nothing else; it has not the grace of God and has nothing whatever to do with our Lord's command to love one another.
But what is essential is that we recognize "means" as values of Being and give to them (means) fuller justice than we have in the past. The old idea that means are secondary is to go and is going; for when directed through proper channels, they are indisputable and indispensable signs of life and growth.

THE SUNSET GLOW

Away in the depths of the far southwest
A golden light is shed
Thro' the rifted cloud
Of the daylight's shroud
From the fading sun o'erhead.

Anon to the westward spears of light
Spread slowly o'er the sea,
With a sudden chill,
O'er dale and hill,
And a stilling of the sea.

And steadily rolling from south to west,
The dimming light-beams flow
Till the pink and gold
Together mold
The beautiful Sunset Glow!

O'er earth and sky the glowing spreads,
Tingeing the wastes of green;
O'er the mountain sides
The color glides
In a silvered golden sheen.

For one brief while the western sky
Is ablaze with this wondrous light.
As if to stay
This glorious day
From merging into night.

But from the east—the darkness east,
Comes creeping a greying mist;
And o'er it all
It spreads its pall—
And Life and Death have kissed!

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist, of November 1, 1884.)
Citizens' Hall—Last night Victoria paid tribute to Vice-Admiral Richard "Lionel" when he appeared as guest of honor at a special citizens' ball held in the Skating Rink. More than 500 Victorians and members of the officers' mess at Esquimalt barracks were present. The band of H.M.S. Mutine provided the music, which was highly enjoyable.
Reopening of Theatre—On Monday evening next George Snow and his admirably equipped company will reopen the New Theatre Royal, Douglas Street, with the charming "Roadsides." This is one of the best among the number of excellent dramas that the management propose to present. Mr. Snow will play the title role, and Anna Edeas Ralston the part of Rose. Miss Mary A. Drost will portray the character of "Sir Arthur May." This young artist is a local actress of note.
Church Anniversary—The tenth anniversary of the establishment of the Reformed Episcopal Church in Victoria will be observed with special services in the morning and evening. The choir will be augmented by members of choirs from other city churches.

WELFARE FUND NEEDS SUPPORT

Halfway Mark Still Has to Be Attained in Campaign to Raise $43,500

As the Friendly Help Association's campaign to raise $43,500 passed the middle of its third week, donations still fell below the $20,000 mark, and officials became anxious over the success of the drive.
"A very small number of donations has, up to this time, been received from local stores and business houses," Stewart Clark, campaign manager, said. "All the money that is raised by this campaign will be spent in Victoria and the adjoining municipalities, so that a great part of it will find its way back to the merchants. We feel, therefore, that we should be able to count on a greater measure of support from this source. Seventy-five per cent of the money raised has come from private individuals, who desire, above all else, that none of our citizens shall go without at least the necessities of life this Winter. May I again appeal, on behalf of the campaign committee, for a more generous response on the part of our merchants?" Mr. Clark concluded.

THE CHILD

By REGINALD H. WIGGINS, M.D., C.M., L.M.C.C.

"THE FUTURE"
Upon the proper care and adequate training of our children today depends: the peace and order of our homes; the character, ability and personality of our citizenry to come, and the future of the race.

So that British Columbia mothers and fathers might have the requisite, up-to-date information on the rearing and training of their children, these articles are appearing in the press.

The press is the most effective means of making this knowledge available to those who most need it.

Mothers always—and increasingly fathers, too—are showing more and more interest in this vital problem. Mothers of young children; young mothers surprised and baffled by the first unexpected resistance of a small child to authority; older mothers unable to adapt their methods of child-training (apparently successful with one child) to the varying needs of their several children; mothers and fathers of adolescent boys and girls; fathers who really desire to know the nature and needs of their growing boys; grandmothers who find their own tried methods of discipline ineffectual in conflict with those of their children—and their grand-children—all these desire some up-to-date and sound advice on the care and training of children and are demanding it.

Tomorrow's article: "The Whole Child."

RETIREES FROM POLICE FORCE

Constable F. G. Hutchinson Superannuated—Served Eighteen Years

—Photograph by Savannah.
F. G. HUTCHINSON

Constable F. G. Hutchinson will terminate his services with the Victoria Police Department when he finishes his shift at the Victoria High School this morning. After sixteen years on the force, he is being superannuated.

Familiarly called George, by his colleagues, Constable Hutchinson has enjoyed great popularity among constables and officers alike on the force.

During the last two years he has been on patrol at Victoria High School, and his friendly demeanor and general interest in youth won for him many friends among the student body.

REVOLVER SHOOTING
Constable Hutchinson is also well known in revolver shooting circles and is regarded as an expert. Four years ago he took first prize in an individual revolver match, in which the best shots of Vancouver Island participated.

A native of Kendal, Westmoreland, England, he joined the East Yorkshire Regiment in 1892 and served for thirteen years in Egypt, India and Burma. Returning to England in 1906, he transferred to the Oxford and Buckingham Light Infantry. In 1917, Constable Hutchinson left the service and came to British Columbia. He joined the police force here on October 22, 1918.

Constable Hutchinson resides with his wife, at their home, at 1165 Chapman Street. At the present time he has no plans for the immediate future.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

HICCUP
When you read about cases of hiccup lasting for a number of days under hospital care, you may wonder why the simple methods you have often seen or used are not able to stop this hiccup.

The reason that hiccup is sometimes so hard to stop is because there are such a number of causes of hiccup. Hiccup is caused by a spasm of the diaphragm (the big muscle that forms the floor of the chest). At the same time muscles close the throat, and so the hiccup occurs as air passes over the vocal cords.

Dr. E. Clark Noble, Toronto, in The Canadian Medical Association Journal, outlines the various causes of hiccup, or hiccough as it is perhaps more properly called.

(1) Affections of the chest, of the abdomen, or of the central nervous system; (2) Epidemic; (3) Nervous or unknown; (4) Infections or those due to poisons.

As the treatment will depend to a great extent upon the cause, there are a great many forms of treatment, some based on scientific principles and some used because they have been known to put a stop to an attack of hiccup.

In a well-known system of medicine, used by thousands of physicians, there are no less than seventy-five methods mentioned for controlling hiccup.

Now you may not know the cause of hiccup in any particular case, and the fact that hiccup sometimes occurs with some serious ailments may cause you to hesitate about trying to use any of the popular methods of relief.

In medicine the commonest causes of any symptom are looked for first; therefore in looking for a cause of hiccup the stomach and intestine is found to be at fault—over-eating, eating certain foods, eating or drinking under excitement. Naturally, then, the first thought should be to induce vomiting by tickling the throat with a feather, or the use of mustard or ipecac. These methods can be safely tried.

Other simple methods are: (a) attempting to blow the air out of the lungs, with the nose and throat covered; (b) breathing and re-breathing into a paper bag; (c) sipping ice water or hot water; (d) pulling on the tongue; (e) trying to drink out of a glass with water tipped away from the mouth; (f) pressure over the eyeballs.

If these simple methods fail after a fair trial, send for your physician, as solutions may have to be put into the veins or even the cutting of a nerve may be necessary to stop the hiccup.

"Well, sir," said the accused, "he was threatening me in broken English, so I replied in broken china."

Dr. Weir presented the gifts, which were the tangible expressions of esteem from the united staff to the retiring employees.

After coffee hours, an informal hallooed party followed, in which cats walked, ghosts appeared, and unsuspecting persons were made to sit in an electrified chair, with "shocking" consequences. All the branches of the Printery joined in the fun, which ended with a rousing send-off for the four recipients of the honor.

Court Rules Out Move to Disqualify in Thousands

Fraud Alleged in Registration of Body of Voters Considered Favorable to Upton Sinclair—Charge "Movie" Magnates With Intimidation

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31 (AP).—A legal move toward mass disqualification of 24,000 alleged fraudulently registered voters in Los Angeles County, stronghold of Upton Sinclair, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, was blocked today by the State Supreme Court. Sinclairites hailed the ruling as a victory.
With the election only five days away, the high court's decision was interpreted by State's Attorney General U. S. Webb, a Republican, as preventing similar projected action against other thousands of persons before November 6.
"The opposition themselves didn't expect any other decree," said Louis Rose, a Sinclair campaign executive, "but it answered their purpose in intimidating prospective voters for Sinclair."
"They made sure of expressing the thought that a voter is liable to a penalty of seven years' imprisonment if by any chance his right to vote is challenged."
"Ninety-nine per cent of those questioned were Democrats."
"The fight for and against Sinclair," said Rose, "is a campaign for the governorship, whose candidacy for the governorship has been eyed coldly by the Washington administration, went on with unabated fury. Announcement was made by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce that 'great national concerns are holding back big investments in California, awaiting the outcome of the election.'"
The announcement mentioned plans of General Aviation Corporation, a subsidiary of General Motors, for building a $1,000,000 plant and employing 1,000 men there.
CHARGE INTIMIDATION
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31 (AP).—Charges that movie magnates and other business leaders were intimidating workers against voting for Upton Sinclair were raised tonight by an official of the state Democratic campaign organization who named Katharine Hepburn, screen actress, as "an example of an employee so threatened."
Filmmaker became involved in the Sinclair campaign crossover when David Sokol, an attorney, writing on stationery headed "The Law Enforcement Committee of the County Central Committee of the Democratic Party," asked the Los Angeles district attorney's office for grand jury investigation of alleged threats that movie studio employees would be asked to give a day's pay each to the Republican campaign fund.
Sokol asked that Miss Hepburn and the heads of eight large studios be summoned. He also said he would ask later for subpoenas for Douglas Fairbanks, Clark Gable, Will Rogers and other screen personages. He alleged that studio employees earning more than $100 a week had been asked to give a day's pay each to the Republican campaign fund.
SENT INVESTIGATOR
Deputy District Attorney Daniel Beecher announced he had sent an investigator to question Miss Hepburn on whether she had been "intimidated." Her studio said she probably would be available for comment tonight and that she had not yet been informed of the subpoena request.
Beecher said studio executives would not be subpoenaed but that if Sokol's committee would furnish the names of persons allegedly intimidated, they would be called before the grand jury.

LITTLE DAMAGE DONE BY BOYS

Police Reports Show Halloween Comparatively Quiet—Ratrols Curb Youths

Water poured out of a hydrant on Rockland Avenue, fences were torn down, gates stolen, and a myriad firecrackers discharged by thousands of boys and girls throughout the Great Victoria area last night in observance of Halloween, which apparently the young celebrants did not know was the celebration of the eve of All-Saints' Day.
It must be said, however, that pranks were not as damaging this year, and that the number of stolen gates was much less than last year. No false fire alarms were turned in.
This was due to two factors. First the weather somewhat dampened the spirits of the celebrants, while special patrols organized by the police curbed the more ambitious youths, who might have planned vandalism.
FENCE IS BROKEN
A fire hydrant was opened on Rockland Avenue, and for a time the road was like a river-bed. The greatest damage was reported at 16 Government Street, where twenty feet of fence on Government Street and twenty feet of fence on Dallas Road were torn down. The culprits were caught by the police, however, and probably will appear in the juvenile court.
Ernest Worth, of 614 Craigflower Road, suffered a slight injury to his ankle in a tussle with other youths, and was rendered first aid at the city police station.
A live wire was reported down on St. Charles Street near Earle Street, and a policeman had to be stationed there until the city's electric light department sent a man out to remedy the trouble. This, however, was not definitely attributed to vandalism.

Hallowe'en Celebrated At Empress

Hallowe'en witches with their black cats rode on the traditional broomsticks last night, and all was gaiety at the Empress Hotel, when the Hallowe'en cabaret was held in the crystal ballroom. RAMON NOVARRO PLAYHOUSE STAR

Co-Starring With Jeanette MacDonald in the Brilliant "Cat and the Fiddle"
High romance and luring melody, prize-winning twins of entertainment, are deftly combined in "The Cat and the Fiddle," which opens at the Playhouse Theatre today. Ramon Novarro and Jeanette MacDonald are the stars, and this department suggests that Metro-

Goldwyn-Mayer will do well to keep them together in future films. It has been many a day since the screen has seen a more ideal pair of lovers.

"The Cat and the Fiddle," adapted from the successful stage play by Jerome Kern and Otto Harbach, comes to the films with its original inspired musical score intact. The story happily has been strengthened in its romantic and dramatic aspects and it is absorbing entertainment from first to last.

CAPITOL George Robey rides a THEATRE donkey in "Chu Chin Chow," the old adage "Don Quixote" and again in "Jolly Roger." Throughout the production he rides the same mule and makes a good job of it. He says "Feed 'em now and again and they get to know you after a time."

Football Story At the Columbia

The "College Coach" company moved suddenly one day during the production of the picture, which is showing at the Columbia Theatre today. Everybody wondered why. With the exception of football sequences photographed at the Pasadena Rose Bowl, all shooting on this football story had been done at the Warner Brothers studios in North Hollywood. The reason was Dick Powell—a lad of growing importance in the movie business. Dick was working in two pictures at the same time, an unusual procedure for a featured player or a star. Archie Mayo was directing "Convention City" as well as the lead in "College Coach." Shooting schedules on both pictures allow for no lost time. Therefore it became a question of moving one company or the other. "College Coach" is a thrilling tale of gridiron heroes with some inside information on how certain colleges commercialize football. Romance is furnished by Ann Dvorak who flirts with Lyle Talbot, while married to Coach Pat O'Brien.

MAE WEST WILL BE SEEN AT DOMINION

Mae West, the lady who invented "mump and see me, sometime," has gone down to Dixie and raised havoc this time. In her newest, laugh-and-drama-filled screen spectacle, "Belle of the Nineties," which opens tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre, Miss West has returned to the Giddy Nineties, hour-glass costumes, swirling hats and ostrich plumes for her setting. In the principal male roles are Roger Pryor, New York stage star, who recently made his Hollywood debut; John Mack Brown and John Miljan, who acts the "tall, dark" menace. Katherine DeMille, Stuart Holmes, Warren Hymer and Harry Woods appear in the supporting cast, and Duke Ellington, rhythm king, furnishes a tantalizing musical background for Miss West's vocal renditions.

NOTED ENGLISH FILM AT CAPITOL SATURDAY

At his own request, no ceremony attended the presentation of the Motion Picture Academy award—Hollywood's highest mark of merit—to Charles Laughton, when Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" was in production. In this, his first film since winning the award, he plays Norma Shearer's grim father.

The bronze statuette of award was quietly tendered him by officials of the academy. Afterward Laughton said to his friends: "It is the most sporting gesture I ever heard of, granting the award to an English actor in an English film."

The actor won the honor for his brilliant work in "Henry VIII." The statuette was held until his arrival in Hollywood later. "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" starts Saturday at the Capitol Theatre.

EXTEND PATRONAGE TO ASSOCIATION COMEDY

Mayor and Mrs. David Leeming, Comte and Comtesse Jean de Suzzanne and Mrs. W. C. Nichol have extended their patronage to the performance of the comedy, "Hay Fever," which will be the first presentation of the Victoria Little Theatre Players this season. The Little Theatre movement had its birth five years ago under the name of the Mimes and Masquers' Guild, and at that time boasted about twenty members. The association has weathered the depression and now finds itself with sixty active and 150 associate members; permanent quarters on Burdett Avenue house the organization and it is here that scenery is constructed and stored and rehearsals take place.

H. S. Munn, who is well known in Victoria's theatrical circles, will direct "Hay Fever." Arthur Kerr is stage manager; Henry Worthington and Miss Dallas Homer-Dixon are responsible for "props," while costumes are being planned and assembled by Miss Wilma Henderson. Charles Gifford is house manager. "Hay Fever" will be presented in the Shrine Auditorium on Monday, November 5, at 8:30 p.m.

WHITE CARGO IS ON EMPIRE STAGE

Vancouver Sun Critic Praises
Actors in Unusual Play—Three-Day Engagement

"A great play, with an unusual story, is 'White Cargo.' It gives wide scope for unique characterizations, and to those Leyland Hodgson and his International Players do full justice," said J. K., writing in The Vancouver Sun yesterday, and referring to the play which will open its three-day Victoria engagement this evening at the Empire Theatre.

To four members of a faultless cast go honors for outstanding characterization. They are Mr. Hodgson, as the man who hardened himself to the life in Africa and stayed; to Frank Vyvyan, as the kindly doctor with a strong desire for law; to Emerson Court, who went to Africa full of high hopes, only to be disillusioned, and Marian Shockley, as Tondelayo, half-caste girl, and the cause of the downfall of many.

In every detail this play has proved outstanding during the first three days of this week in Vancouver.

CANADIAN QUARTETTE TO APPEAR HERE SOON

From the Sydney, N.S., Post-Record of October 17, comes this report of a concert given by the Hart House String Quartette. "The singing strings of the Hart House Quartette, internationally famous artists, scored a smashing hit at the Capitol Theatre last night, when their first appearance in Sydney drew over 1,000 music lovers to hear music of an unsurpassed and extremely beautiful quality."

The Hart House String Quartette will be heard in Victoria on Monday, November 19, and with them will appear John Hopper, pianist, in the Cesar Franck Quintette in F Minor. Mr. Hopper has played several times in Victoria, and has always made a most favorable impression on his audiences. The concert will be given in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel.

LANTERN LECTURE TO BE GIVEN TOMORROW

Natural-colored lantern slides, of Bryce, Zion and the Grand Canyons will be featured in an illustrated travelogue by Miss Avis Lobdell, of Portland, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the First United Church. When the speaker makes her second appearance in Victoria under the auspices of the Eagles' Young Men's Club.

Miss Lobdell comes to Victoria highly recommended from other Pacific Coast points and as the result of many requests from those who heard her on her speaking tour in Victoria last June.

"The Temple of Sinnewawa," "The Great White Throne," "Queen Victoria's Statue," "The Cathedral," and many other curious and highly-colored rock formations that are to be found in these playgrounds, will be shown in their natural colors by means of a new type of lantern slide that is made in a new manner which assures perfect reproduction of natural beauties.

Vancouver Grid Team Withdraws From Play-Offs

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31 (CP).—The Western Canada Junior Rugby final is enacting a kind of "on again, off again, Finnegan" stunt, and final officials are no more certain than gridiron fans when, where and between whom the decisive tilt will be fought. Edmonton kinsmen came back into the picture tonight as they reconsidered yesterday's decision to withdraw. Winnipeg Deer Lodge plays Regina Dales, next Saturday, in the semi-final, and the winner may or may not play host to the Alberta outfit for the final the following Saturday. Vancouver Meras, the British Columbia champions, have definitely drawn out of the play-off scheme.

GOLF LINKS CLOSED AT CEDAR HILL

Harry Eve Vacates Course
He Started Eleven Years
Ago—To Live at Sooke

Cedar Hill golf course, paradise of hundreds of local club swingers during its eleven years of existence, today is just a memory of the past. Harry W. Eve, veteran professional and lessee of the links, announced yesterday that the course has been closed for all time, and that he, himself, has abandoned the premises to take up his residence with his family at Sooke. Mr. Eve opened the Cedar Hill course in 1923 and has had control of it over the decade of years it has been the playground of hundreds.

Born in England, Harry Eve came to Canada many years ago and was situated in London, Ontario, for some time as a club professional. He headed west and in 1918 he was appointed pro at the Oak Bay Club, a position he held until 1921, when he left to open a golf school in the city. Mr. Eve succeeded the late Tommy Gallop at the Victoria Golf Club. Gallop was killed overseas. During his stay at Oak Bay, the veteran pro brings back memories of coaching the Prince of Wales when the heir to the throne played there in 1919, the year he made his first visit to Victoria.

Being actively interested in golf from the professional and teaching standpoints for the past forty-one years, Mr. Eve vacates Cedar Hill with many pleasing and enjoyable memories. Several of the city's leading golfers of the past and present can look back to the day when Harry Eve coached them on the links for the first time.

TENNIS STARS TURNING PRO

George Lott and Lester
Stoefen Will Join Salaried
Ranks Soon

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP).—The light of hope for a successful 1935 United States Davis Cup team glimmered faintly today. The movies have claimed Frank X. Shields, number one player, and the final blow that will leave the United States Lawn Tennis Association in the dark is expected shortly with the announcement that George M. Lott, Jr., and Lester R. Stoefen, crack doubles pair, have turned professional.

Shields' contract leaves him free to play tennis, but it is generally believed he will be too busy with his new undertaking to remain in active competition or be a candidate for next year's team.

Lott and Stoefen are weighing an offer to turn pro made by Bill O'Brien, sports promoter, and William Tilden, and are reported to be on the verge of signing away their amateur standing and contracting to play to the tune of the clicking turnstiles.

ARRANGE FOR SCHOOL SPORTS

Decision Made at Cobble
Hill to Hold Event in Summer

COBBLE HILL, Oct. 30.—A public meeting was held on Monday evening, in the Cobble Hill High School, to hear and discuss the report of a committee appointed last Spring to draw up tentative plans for an annual inter-school sports day. Three school districts were represented at the meeting by trustees and teachers.

Mr. Thomas, of the Cobble Hill High School staff, presided. The two other members of the committee were W. H. Plores, of the Shaanigan Public School, and G. Bonner, Cobble Hill. Mr. Bonner reported that, in response to a letter sent to the surrounding districts, at least four schools, and possibly more would join in the project, and had voted financial support.

Following a definite decision to hold such a sports day, the present committee was confirmed in office and given power to add. The date of the first meet could not be set definitely, but it was agreed that it should be as near as possible to May 15.

A tentative sports programme, drawn up by the committee, was discussed and approved with a few slight changes. The selection of the sports ground and arrangements for transportation were left in the hands of the committee. The refreshment concession will be granted to the Cobble Hill High School Student Council, subject to its consent, with 10 per cent of the profits to go to the sports funds.

SOOKE, Oct. 31.—The Sooke Branch of the Canadian Legion held a general meeting in Sooke Hall, with P. W. de Taylor in the chair. It was decided to celebrate Remembrance Day. Veterans and members will meet at Sooke Hall at 9:30 a.m. on November 11, and parade to the memorial, where a short service will be held, and a wreath placed on the cenotaph at 9:45 o'clock. The annual New Year's Eve dance and frolic will be held as usual.

IMPROVEMENTS BRING RESULTS

Courtenay-Comox Board of Trade Hears Several Encouraging Reports

COURTENAY, Oct. 31. — There was a good turnout of members at the regular meeting of the Courtenay-Comox Board of Trade on Monday night.

For the purpose of further considering the necessity of providing a warning to motorists at a dangerous curve on the Island Highway at the eastern entrance to the city, G. A. Kirk, J. H. Macintyre and L. B. Plumbly were appointed a committee to interview the City Council.

President J. M. Mitchell reported taking action regarding the improved landing now under construction for the convenience of the Hornby Island and other boats. The float is situated on the property of Charles Simms, with his consent, and it is being constructed by voluntary help.

William Rickson reported for the retail section of the board several important matters which had been considered by his committee. The first was that the road between Merrillville and Campbell River be improved, as it was a detriment to business. This was referred to the public works committee.

The matter of providing better street lighting in the business section of Courtenay, where, it is claimed, it is inadequate, was endorsed by the meeting. The suggestion that fire insurance rates in the city are too high and that a reduction be sought was referred back to the retail section for further investigation and report.

Captain E. Lloyd, reporting for the transportation committee, said that the work of building the new float on the Courtenay River was proceeding satisfactorily. There had been some sitting, but the river improvements and the slough anchorage were bringing money to the town. New members elected were Dr. P. L. Strath, R. W. Rogers and Robert Lang.

IMPORTING EGGS FROM VANCOUVER

Wholesalers Declare Mainland Eggs
Up to 50 Cents Government
—Butter Steady

Although local wholesalers are importing some eggs from Vancouver and other Mainland points, these are still quantities of local eggs to be purchased here. Wholesalers reported the situation was not as serious as was indicated yesterday. They stated they had been importing eggs from the Mainland for some time owing to the large number of Vancouver Island poultry raisers discontinuing business.

It is not expected prices will rise. The shortage of local eggs will probably continue until Christmas. All imported eggs are up to the highest Government grading.

Vancouver is shipping eggs to the East, three car loads leaving this week for Montreal. Smaller varieties of eggs are being shipped.

In the ordinary course of events, butter should advance at this time of year, but a surplus has kept the butter price steady.

Miss Eva Hasell Will Tell of Mission Work

Miss Eva Hasell, head of the Caravan Mission in Western Canada, will address a public meeting tonight, at 8 o'clock, in Memorial Hall. She has this year again been working in the Peace River country, and her account of the mission there and the conditions existing among the people will be anticipated with the keenest interest by all who know the great work done by the caravans in the western Anglican diocese.

One million persons attended the recent Eucharistic Congress at Buenos Aires, October 11-14, the first time this assembly has met in South America. The religious ceremonies centred around a giant cross, 113 feet high, erected in Palermo Park, of that city. Pope Pius XI broadcast his papal blessing from Vatican City on the morning of the closing day.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"ROYALTY IS BUT A FEATHER IN A MAN'S CAP"

A cat may look at a queen and a commoner not only may but did coin a line containing so much intrinsic truth that it has taken its place in the English language among the classic remarks of history. A reader sends us an inquiry on it.

The origin of the expression is rooted in the turbulent history of England and particularly with the rise to fame and power of Oliver Cromwell.

From his humble beginnings, Cromwell achieved virtual dictatorship of Great Britain. When offered the title of "King," however, which was voted him in 1657, he rejected it in the now famous words: "Royalty is but a feather in a man's cap."

The boat capsize and the three fishermen found themselves struggling in the deep water. . . Fortunately, no lives were lost—Canadian paper.

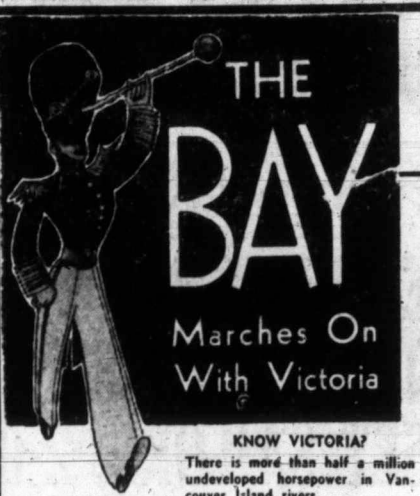

It takes more than a ducking to stop an angler.

Saanich Liberals Choose Officers For Coming Year

C. D. Stewart was chosen president of the Saanich Ward One Liberal Association, when that organization held its annual meeting in St. Aidan's Hall last night. H. W. Mayer was elected vice-president, and S. Hunt was named secretary-treasurer for the coming year. Those chosen as delegates to the central executive of the Liberal Association were T. F. Alexander and J. M. McGee.

Norman W. Whitaker, M.P.P. for Saanich, and Alan Chambers, Liberal candidate in Nanaimo Federal riding, spoke. Mr. Chambers criticized the Federal Government and dealt with Liberal policies.

What Today Means

"SCORPIO"

If November 1 is your birthday,
the best hours for you on this date
are from 10:30 a.m. until noon,
from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m.,
from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. and from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m.

A new month starts on this day
under some very auspicious conditions, which might justify an optimistic feeling that business as a whole will show a big improvement over preceding months. Your results may depend on the amount of vigilance and energy you use,
for both will be required to achieve success. On this November 1 avoid giving expression to any discordant thoughts or pessimistic utterances, for they may react unfavorably and prevent your accomplishing something you have in mind. Any lack of decision on your part in settling an important question may cause delays that might not only inconvenience you, but others as well. It probably will prove good judgment

both from a social and business standpoint if you devote some of your time to your friends and relax from the stress and strain of routine duties. Married and engaged couples, as well as those seeking the road that leads to matrimony and who have found one they wish to have as a traveling companion, will avoid trouble if they do not try to be evasive if asked a direct question regarding some personal action.

If a woman and November 1 is your birthday, you are not only practical, but also capable of planning in such a way that your efforts will bear fruit. You have the gifts of being able to carry out orders without resorting to numerous questions or arguments. You should prove invaluable to an employer, in a secretarial capacity, or as manager in a department of either an office or store. If nature has blessed you with a voice, you should have it cultivated, for as a singer or actress you might gain recognition.

A matrimonial career need not interfere with a business or professional one, providing your husband offers no objections.

The child born on November 1, generally when it arrives at high school age is very advanced for its years and has a very logical mind.
If possible this child should be trained for some professional line of work.
If a man and November 1 is your natal day, you should have the ability to direct the actions of others. Sooner or later this ought to be recognized and rapid advancement should follow. Military life, engineering, the pulpit and journalism offer opportunities which should not be ignored. Married life is likely to prove more than satisfactory.

When in Palestine a tourist filled
his flask with Jordan water for use at the christening of his baby. Before the ceremony he handed the flask without explanation to the person who said quietly: "Many thanks, but not now; later on!"

Quizzer—I was astounded to hear of your marriage to Miss Pickles.
She told me you had offended her
so she never would forgive you.
Whizzer—That's right. She hasn't forgotten me. She married me to get even with me.
Mrs. White: "Our new minister is just wonderful. He always brings the truth home to you."
Mrs. Gray: "Wouldn't it be perfectly lovely to have a husband like that?"

HUDSON'S BAY AND SPENCERS BATTLE TO DEADLOCK

English Soccer Eleven Rallies to Nose Out Scotland in International Match

Goal Late in 2nd Half Gives Squad Close Victory, 2-1

Brook's Marker in the Final Canto Settles Hard-Fought Football Tussle—Icy Winds and Rain Keeps Crowd Away—Scottish Leads at Interval When McCulloch Scores

STAMFORD BRIDGE, LONDON, Oct. 31 (CP).—Coming from behind, the English League defeated the Scottish League by 2-1 this afternoon in the final of the international soccer competition of the season. Scotland led 1-0 at half-time. The game was played in miserable weather conditions, before a small crowd. Icy winds and rain swept the ground, keeping the attendance down to small proportions. The turf was greasy. Injuries prevented the fielding of the English League team originally named, and substitutions were also necessary on the Scottish side. The Scottish League attacked from the outset, surprising the crowd with their speed. McCulloch netted in the thirteenth minute.

GOING HEAVY
The English combination seemed to break down against the stern tackling of the Scottish, and their passes were loose, the forwards having a hard time. Bowden, however, worked the ball up cleverly, and on one occasion narrowly missed heading into the Scottish goal.

On their part, the English defence had plenty of trouble. Barker, halfback, supposed to be defensive pivot, rarely knew where to find the Scottish leaders.

Half-time: Scottish League 1, English League 0.

On the resumption, however, the English League had put themselves together and made a better showing. Matthews was well served on the attack, and a couple of good scrimmages in front of the Scottish goal saw all five English forwards attacking. Matthews shot the ball hard into the goal's hands on one occasion.

The English finally got the tying goal when Matthews collared the ball and passed to Brook, who was uncovered and had no difficulty scoring.

WINNING GOAL
The English attack became faster than ever, but a tendency to hold the ball too long did not help them. A bout of close passing between Tilson and Brook resulted in the latter scoring the winning goal with a half-nit shot which Kennedy might have saved if a defender had not rushed in front of him. Scotland tried hard to equalize, but were unsuccessful.

The teams lined up as follows: Scottish League—Kennedy (Goal), Cooper (Aberdeen) and McGonagle (Celtic), backs; Massie (Hearts), Simpson (Rangers) and Herd (Hearts) halfbacks; Main (Rangers), Miller (Partick), McCulloch (Hearts), Napier (Celtic) and Reid (Hamilton), forwards.

English League—Moss (Arsenal), goal; Cooper (Derby) and Hapgood (Arsenal), backs; Britton (Everton), Barker (Derby) and Bray (Manchester City) halfbacks; Matthews (Stoke), Bowden (Arsenal), Tilson (Manchester City), Hall (Spurs) and Brook (Manchester City), forwards.

Tolan Will Go After Records In Australia

DETROIT, Oct. 31 (CP).—When Eddie Tolán, chunky Detroit sprinter, competes in professional races in Australia the latter part of this year and the first of next, he is confident he will establish new marks for the century and quarter-mile. Tolán revealed his hopes in an interview here today.

The sprint king of the 1932 Olympics, to become eligible for the visit to the antipodes, had to run 75 and 100 yards against time. He ran the 75 in 7.5 and the longer distance in 10.4.

SHORTSTOP IS SOLD TO THE GIANTS

Dick Bartell, Phillies' Infielder, Goes to New York for $100,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP).—In a deal estimated by club officials to involve $100,000 in cash and players, New York Giants tonight announced the much-discussed acquisition of Dick Bartell, star shortstop of Philadelphia Nationals, as the first big move toward bolstering the former world champions for 1935.

The Giants turned over four players and an estimated $75,000 in cash for Bartell, outbidding at least two other National League clubs, St. Louis and Chicago. The players going to the Phillies are Utility Infielder John Stebbins, Ryan, Third Baseman Johnny Vergez, Outfielder George Watkins and John Puzello, right-handed pitcher, who performed with the Richmond, Va., and Nashville, Tenn., clubs last season.

Since their collapse in the closing stages of the last pennant race, the Giants have invested $115,000 in new talent, according to Jim Tierney, club secretary, who announced the deal with the Phillies.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP).—Baseball has been selected as the sport foreign to the organizing country to be demonstrated at the 1936 Olympiad in Berlin, according to word received today by Frederick W. Ruben, secretary of the United States Olympic committee.

Varsity Rallies in Grid Win

Queens, although handicapped by the fraternity ruling which prevents members of "frat" from playing Rugby, very nearly upset the apple cart at Varsity Stadium, Toronto, by playing a stellar game. The Big Blue team were in hot water all through the struggle, and it was only in the last few seconds of play that they managed to struggle out from a tie and score the winning point. Varsity 7, Queens 6. The above photograph shows labister, star kicker for Varsity, just managing to boot one before Queens broke through on him.

Twenty Grand to Return To Track After Two Years

Mrs. Payne Whitney's Great Race Horse Will Attempt to Lift $100,000 Handicap Event at New Santa Anita Track in the South

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP).—Twenty Grand, one of the greatest thoroughbreds ever to step a hoof on the American turf, is being prepared for a comeback with an eye on the $100,000 handicap, which will be run at the new Santa Anita track outside of Los Angeles, February 23.

Away from the races since 1932, when he was forced into retirement by weak legs, the big bay, which won $218,545 as a three-year-old in 1931, has been under saddle for the past six weeks at Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greenacre farm near Lexington, Ky.

Whether he will stand training is still to be decided as nothing more than mere gallops have been asked of the six-year-old contemporary of Equipoise. But Mrs. Whitney hopes to find out before the entries close on December 1 for the rich West Coast special for which Equipoise, Cavalcade and Discovery are being pointed.

It was decided to place Twenty Grand in training again when he proved of no value in the stud, being sterile.

GREAT RECORD
Few horses have caught the fancy of the public as did Twenty Grand, when he reeled off a mile in 1:36 to win the Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes by a neck from Equipoise in record time for two-year-olds and then came back the next year to smash the record for the Kentucky Derby with a mark of 2:01 4-5.

After winning eight of his ten starts and being beaten only by A. C. Bostwick's Mate in the Prekness and Arlington classics during his three-year-old career, the son of St. Germans was forced to retire because of a leg ailment. An attempt was made to bring him back the next year but after starting twice and winning once, a swelling again developed in his near foreleg and he was sent to his owner's Kentucky farm.

During his career, Twenty Grand started in twenty races, won thirteen, was second four times, third in two other races and went unplaced only once and that as a two-year-old. In purse he won a total of $280,840.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 31 (CP).—One hour of scrimmaging before a gallery of some one hundred, including Major Frederick McLaughlin, their owner, was allotted today, but when Manager Clem Loughlin indicated the rough work was over he was met by a violent storm of protest.

These are the Hawks preparing for the new season. There is more spirit in the camp than in any season and the talk is freely of "what other team, except maybe Toronto, can keep up with us?"

Even with "Taffy" Abel and "Doc" Rommes missing, the practice hasn't suffered. In fact the first ten minutes today, with the team composed of Moreenz, Couture, Gottselig, Burke, Wiebe and Stark, opposing March, Thompson, McPadden, Coulter, Kenney and Levine, were as fast and cleverly fought as many a regular game.

Howie Moreenz flashed his old zip in many rushes.

TED MEWEN

SHARPSHOOTING veteran wing forward of the New Westminster Adanacs basketball squad, former holders of the Canadian men's senior championship, who will be seen in action Saturday night at the Victoria High School gymnasium when the Royal City cagers step on the floor to do battle with Blue Ribbons, 1932 champions of the Dominion. For years McEwen has held down a regular berth with the Adanacs and, still today, he is rated as one of the deadliest shots under the hoop in the province. He has had plenty of experience and therefore will be closely watched by the local back division.

Time Supply Captures $28,000 Purse—Equipoise Third in Other Race

NARRAGANSETT PARK, R.I., Oct. 31 (AP).—Two startling upsets, the $28,000 victory of the 13-1 Time Supply, and the failure of the great Equipoise to finish better than third in a five-horse sprint field, shocked a crowd of 20,000 that witnessed the racing programme here today.

Equipoise, out of competition since May, due to a foot injury, has far to go before regaining his magnificent form. Tom Healy, his trainer, thought, however, he was in shape to trounce the mediocre competition lined up against him in the day's secondary feature, the $5,000 added weight-for-age six furlongs sprint, and Healy was not far from wrong.

The sensational "KKY," carrying 130 pounds, with "Sonny" Workman up, was slow getting away and dropped back in the first few strides as Mrs. M. J. White's All Fornone set a fast pace for the Brookmade Stable's four-year-old, Oakpi, which won by a neck after a stirring backstretch duel.

Baseball President Kept Eyes on Teams During Flag Race

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP).—As an aftermath of the hectic pennant race in which St. Louis Cardinals overhauled New York Giants, President John Arnold Heydler, of the National League, revealed today how he kept all the games involving the contending clubs under close surveillance throughout the last two weeks of September to guard against any possibility of scandal, on or off the baseball fields.

Satisfied that the finish was "as clean as a hound's tooth," Heydler avoided publicizing the extraordinary precautionary measures he took until the suspicion developed that he had concentrated upon scrutinizing the performances of Cincinnati Reds. Occupants of last place, the Reds were the victims of four straight defeats by the Cardinals at the close of the season, while the sixth-place Brooklyn Club was knocking off the Giants in the last two games of the campaign.

STORE ELEVENS IN 1-1 DRAW; RANGERS UPSET SAILORS, 2-0

Departmental Squads Fail to Reach Decision After Hard-Fought Draw—Outer Wharf Footballers Spring Surprise Win of Season—Garrison Whip Macabees, 5-2, at Work Point

HAYWARD CUP SERIES
	W.	L.	D.	P.
Garrison	2	0	1	2
Hudson's Bay	2	0	1	2
Rangers	2	2	0	5
Spencers	0	0	3	4
Navy	1	2	0	7
Macabees	0	3	1	4

Next week's games:
Macabees vs. Outer Wharf Rangers, Royal Athletic Park. Kick-off at 2:30 o'clock.
Hudson's Bay vs. Garrison, Royal Athletic Park. Kick-off at 3:45 o'clock.
Navy vs. Spencers, Admirals Road grounds. Kick-off at 2:45 o'clock.

Checking in with a 5-2 score over the Macabees at Work Point Barracks, while Spencers, last season's champions, were holding the Hudson's Bay, former league leaders, to a 1-1 draw at the Royal Athletic Park, Garrison, Wednesday Football League eleven, went into a tie for first place in the Hayward Cup soccer series yesterday. The rapidly improving Outer Wharf Rangers created the biggest upset of the season by handing the strong Navy squad a 2-0 defeat in the opening game at the Royal Athletic Park. The win placed the Rangers in sole occupation of second berth in the series standings. Spencers registered their third draw in as many starts and are now level with the Macabees at the bottom of the table.

All of the matches were played during a steady rainfall, and as a consequence, the ball and the grounds became exceptionally slippery, making good football out of the question.

BATTLE TO DRAW
With Tommy Musgrave scoring for the Hudson's Bay in the dying moments of the initial half, and Art Chapman, Spencers' centre-half, equalizing late in the second cantio on a penalty kick, the two departmental store elevens battled to a one-all score in a spirited encounter.

Hudson's Bay opened with a dangerous offensive and Stewartson, Spencers' goalie, cleared three shots in quick succession. Still keeping up the pressure the green and gold aggregation tried hard to take the lead, but all of their attacks were repulsed by the fine work of Munroe and Cann. Diamond "S" fullbacks and Stewartson.

Spencers showed to better advantage about halfway through this session and Baxter, Bays' net custodian, saved a number of well directed shots. The Diamond "S" squad swarmed down on their opponents' goal with determination only to be turned back by Jack O'Neil and Tom O'Connell, sturdy defenders.

MUSGRAVE SCORES
Four minutes before the rest interval the Hudson's Bay netted the first marker of the game and the only tally of the initial half. Tommy Musgrave, bustling centre forward, was credited with the goal. Closing fast after he had shot, Musgrave caused Stewartson to momentarily fumble the ball and it bounced off Cann's toe into the net.

The half-time whistle sounded shortly after with the Bays leading a 1-0 score.

It was a different story in the second cantio with Spencers having a decided edge in the play and being prevented from scoring only by the sensational work of Jack Baxter, clever Hudson's Bay goalie.

At the other end of the field, Stewartson, guarding the sticks for Spencers, was tested occasionally with shots that were ticketed for the goal, but he handled everything in great style.

SCORES ON PENALTY
With time passing rapidly and their first defeat staring them in the face, Spencers fought like Trojans for the equalizer. Three minutes from time they were rewarded when Art Chapman, husky centre-half, scored on a penalty kick, given against Les Kennedy, for handling the ball in the forbidden area.

In the remaining 45 minutes, the play two tired elevens fought hammer and nail for the winning goal, but the final whistle sounded with the score unchanged.

Alcock refereed and the teams follow:

Hudson's Bay—Baxter, O'Connell, O'Neil, Williamson, Kennedy, Oakman, Fish, Richards, Musgrave, Stevens and Stewart.

Spencers—Stewartson, Munroe, Cann, Moir, Chapman, D. Bradley, Browne, Bissell, Borde, Luxton and L. Bradley.

GARRISON WINS, 5-2

Running in two markers in the first half and three more in the final session, Garrison chalked up a 5-2 score over the Macabees at Work Point Barracks. The clubmen registered their tallies in the second half.

Edwards opened the scoring for the Tommies when he found the net with a penalty kick early in the game. Jimmie Worswick made it 2-0 when he beat Wilmhurst with a well-directed drive to end the initial half scoring.

Macabees commenced their second session play on the offensive and Fieldhouse garnered their first tally when he scored on the rebound. Dick Miller, flashy centre forward, scored with a long drive to make it 4-2 for the soldiers. Still fighting, the Macabees registered their final marker when Don Newell, speedy left winger, beat Glenendinning with a hot shot from the wing. Worswick added his third goal and the final tally of the match a few minutes later to give the Garrison a 5-2 victory.

McMillan refereed and the teams follow:

Garrison—Glenendinning, Bischoff, Worswick, Wilkinson, Evans, Featherstone, McAllister, Stewart, Miller, Edwards and Cook.

Macabees—Wilmhurst, Jack, Speller, M. MacBride, Fieldhouse, Hill, Garnot, A. MacBride, T. Graves, Emery and D. Newell.

SAILORS BLANKED

Presenting a hard-fighting band of footballers, who never gave up from whistle to whistle, Outer Wharf Rangers sprang a big surprise by turning back, and blanking the Navy eleven, in the curtain raiser at the enclosure by a 2 to 0 score.

Although far from good football, the teams did their best on an extremely slippery pitch and during a steady rainfall, which made the ball heavy and difficult to control.

Feature of the game was the steady and fine goal work of Gordie Chalmers, former Victoria City net minder. Chalmers kept his goal clear in brilliant fashion, especially during the first fifteen minutes of the opening half when he had his work cut out for him. His backs played well, while his halves and forwards played the dashing type of game, never giving the sailors much opportunity to settle down to the short passing game. The teams battled through a scoreless first half with the Navy having a distinct advantage. The sailors would have scored on several occasions, but for the brilliant clearing and kicking of Chalmers.

RANGERS OPEN SCORE
Fifteen minutes after the change over, the Rangers opened the scoring when Thane drove in a long high shot which bounced in front of the net. Mundle came out in an attempt to clear an empty net as two Rangers forwards were closing in fast. The goalie really misjudged the ball. Seven minutes later, after the sailors had made every effort to score, the Rangers jucked victory away when Bourne caught a clearance from Mundle and scored with a low drive to the far corner. Eastwood made the goal possible with a long kick towards goal from just past centre. Just before the final whistle, Robinson narrowly missed with a wicked shot from close quarters.

Shrimpton refereed and the teams follow:

Outer Wharf Rangers—Chalmers, Eastwood, Gelling, Belford, McCoe, Thane, Rice, Poherty, Anderson, Bourne and F. Gelling.

Navy—Mundle, Dorsey, Hibbert, Hutton, McDonald, Robinson, Marr, Brown, Bennallack, De Costa and Walker.

JOHNSON IS NAMED HEAD

Popular Member Elected President of Victoria Lawn Bowling Club

Members of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club, to the number of a half-hundred, met at the clubrooms, Beacon Hill Park, on Tuesday evening, when the annual meeting of that organization was held. The gathering was a most enthusiastic one, with the reports of the various officers showing the club to have had one of the most successful years in its history.

Election of officers for the ensuing year took place, with results as follows:

Honorary president, G. V. Greenhill; president, J. E. Johnson; vice-president, J. S. Atkins; secretary-treasurer, Major S. Baxandall; auditor, F. R. Exham; executive committee, A. McKeachie, D. Dewar, A. B. McNeill, M. Haywood, F. W. Davey, J. Goldie, W. H. Youhill, A. T. Harris, T. A. Waterworth, W. Childs; representatives on Greater Victoria Association, John Goldie, A. T. Harris, C. E. Swaisland, D. Dewar, F. W. Davey; representatives on British Columbia Lawn Bowling Association, D. Dewar, A. McKeachie.

In his valedictory, the retiring president, D. Dewar, expressed his appreciation of the splendid support he had received from the whole membership, and bespoke a continuance of the same for his successor. The club has had a most satisfactory season, as the many successes credited to its members in outside competitions demonstrated. The club's finances, also, were in splendid shape, considering the amount of improvements which had been undertaken during the year.

NEW PREXY SPEAKS

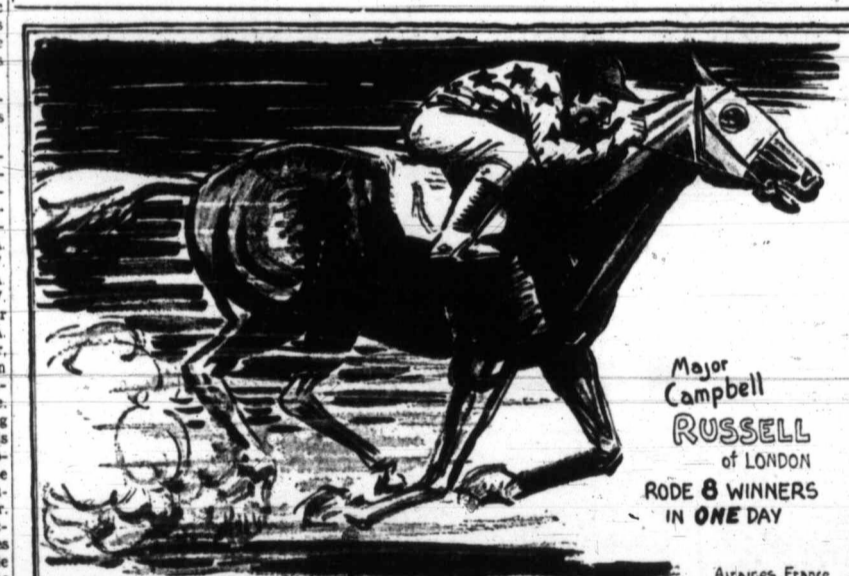

In taking up the gavel laid down by Mr. Dewar, J. E. Johnson, the newly-elected president, briefly thanked the membership for the honor conferred upon him, and at once launched out on an outline of the programme he wished to have carried out during his term. The services of a splendid greenkeeper had been secured, and at present all indications pointed to the greens, next season, being in almost perfect condition. It had been found necessary to make amendments to the by-laws of the club in order to permit of the officers carrying out regulations for the benefit of the organization as a whole. A committee would be appointed, and the result of its deliberations would be submitted to the membership at a meeting to be called prior to the opening of play next season.

During the evening, regret was expressed that J. A. MacDonald had found it impossible to carry on further as secretary, and he was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for his services to the club.

Announcement was also made that in the near future a card party will be staged for the purpose of raising funds with which to procure further improvements to the club's plant, details of which will be announced later.

Little Ulrika Strand of Stockholm, Sweden CAN DO GEOMETRICAL PROBLEMS THAT Baffle PROFESSORS

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
Dwaring the Gargantuan—In describing the incredible eating capacity of Edicoe Needles, of Detroit, Mich., who is a railroad laborer by profession and an eating champion by inclination, I am afraid I should in vain exhaust all the superlatives of the dictionary. Over six feet in height and weighing about 210 pounds, his prowess at the table simply staggers the imagination. He can pack away sixty large pork chops and twenty-five peach and blueberry pies at a single sitting, washing it down with forty-eight bottles of assorted soft drinks. In one average meal he will consume a quantity of meat equal to the normal weekly needs of a family of five. He almost ate a restaurant out of business.

On Sundays, when he has a day off, he concentrates on fowl instead of pork chops, and will then consume about fifteen chickens in a single meal. For Thanksgiving he once consumed three turkeys aggregating sixty pounds. He has achievements such as eating twenty-four pounds of cheese within thirty minutes, and 300 raw eggs at one sitting, to his credit. But all this is nothing to what Needles used to eat, according to his own confession made in a luncheon interval. He doesn't intend to get married, as food is his only "consumption" passion. His three meals a day aggregate forty-five large pork steaks, sixty pork chops, a peck of fried potatoes, ten cups of black coffee, about 100 bottles of soft drinks and beer and fifty pies.

HOYLE-BROWN HOOPMEN IN NARROW WIN

Chalk Up Third Straight
Victory by Nosing Out
Lake Hill, 42-41

Continuing their successful campaign towards the men's senior "B" basketball championship, Hoyle-Brown cagers nosed out a fighting Lake Hill quintette, 42-41, yesterday evening at the Victoria High School gymnasium in one of the fastest and most exciting hoop fixtures witnessed at the local gym for many a moon. Many times during the game the score was tied as tight as the matrimonial knot, but when "Ollie" Goldsmith, curly-haired sharpshooter on the Hoyle-Brown front rank, broke the 38-38 tie three minutes from time, he gave his clubmates a lead which they never lost. George Robertson added two more points on free shots, but Lake Hill, good to the last, sunk three points in the remaining few seconds and just lost the fixture by a lone point.

CARDINALS WIN

Deadlocked in an 8-8 score at the conclusion of the initial half, President Jack Taylor's Cardinals showed improvement in the final canto and raced through to a 26-20 victory over Bob Whyte's Burnetts in a girls' intermediate "A" fixture. Vivian Hannah showed remarkable shooting ability for the winners and dropped home sixteen of their total points.

Regents, smart intermediate "A" boys' quintette, registered their second win of the season when they meted out a 39-22 defeat to the vastly-improved Fernwood Merchants squad. Gaining an eleven-point lead in the first half, the Regents outscored their battling opponents in each stanza.

From the very first sound of Referee Alan Le Marquand's whistle, Hoyle-Brown and Lake Hill set a terrific pace, which they kept up during the whole fixture, and when the final gong sounded it was a tired bunch of cagers that walked off the gymnasium floor.

Hoyle-Brown started the scoring and took a lead early in the fixture, only to have their suburban opponents come right back and even things up before many minutes of play. Gradually they slipped to the fore again, and when the half-time whistle sounded the score board read: Hoyle-Brown 18, Lake Hill 15.

Continuing to find the basket more frequently than the Lake Hill squad, Hoyle-Brown increased their advantage to seven points. However, this lead, like the other, was only short-lived, as "Bud" Mitchell and "Pat" Atkinson dropped the leather home, Lake Hill gradually drew closer, until they tied the count at 22-22. Patterson put the eventual winners up two points, but R. Mitchell and Atkinson came right back and scored two nice field baskets, to give Lake Hill the favored position. This business continued until three minutes from time, when "Ollie" Goldsmith, scoring ace for Hoyle-Brown, broke the 38-38 tie, and from there Hoyle-Brown went out to win a great battle.

Lake Hill put up a gallant battle and went down fighting in a game that was anybody's from start to finish.

Allan Le Marquand refereed, and teams follow:
Hoyle-Brown — Goldsmith (17), Caddell (12), Patterson (4), Robertson (7), Macmurchie (2), Tubman, Levy and Preston—42.

Lake Hill—R. Mitchell (16), Jones, P. Atkinson, Cunningham (2), "Bud" Mitchell (11), S. Bates, McConnell and M. Atkinson (12)—41.
Regents — Fleming, Sharp, Nosker (7), Wallis (4), Minnis (2), McAdam, Chambers (4), Henderson (3) and Webster (13)—39.

Fernwood Merchants — Price (7), Vout, Thomas (6), Dunstedt (4), Wilson, Noel (3), Passmore and Hughes (2)—22.

Cardinals — V. Hannah (16), J. Finch (2), J. Trotter (5), B. Crosby, E. Gaunt, M. Wells, M. Lewis, N. Pelland, D. O'Connor and V. Hall (3)—26.

Burnett's — D. Beere, M. Purdy (2), J. MacDonald (4), J. MacDonald (6), E. Miles (5) and M. Caldwell—20.

PUCK STARS HEAD WEST

Many Prairie Hockey Players to Perform in B.C.
Amateur Circles

By EVERETT ORAEME
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31 (CP).—Amateur hockey clubs from Winnipeg to Calgary may well gaze at their ranks this season and bemoan the fate that has sent two score or more of their youthful stars west to build up British Columbia teams at the expense of the Prairies.

Always an importer of hockey talent, the Coast with a dearth of frozen corner lots on which to develop players, bids fair to play greater havoc than ever this season on the ranks of the Prairie hockey players.

Trail Smoke-Eaters, for years British Columbia Allan Cup representatives and the backbone of the Interior West Kootenay League, will have six new faces in their lineup this year. Calgary supplies two, J. M. Thompson and J. P. Spencer; R.

Some Strange Scenes on Street of Toronto

One of the main business streets of Toronto recently took on the aspect of a Parisian boulevard as merchants moved their wares and equipment out to the sidewalk to carry on their business. It was not just three or four stores, but hundreds of them for many blocks along both sides of the street. It all started when merchants protested the use of the sidewalks for displays by fruit dealers and the sending of a deputation by fruit dealers to see the city fathers in an attempt to have the space allotted to fruit dealers increased. Left, some of the lads call at a cafe for "dejeuner." Overcoats are "de rigueur." Right, F. J. Johnson, barber, gives a hair cut and the fresh air cure. Only difference the barber now keeps his hat on.

E. Marshall hails from Vulcan, Alta.; W. A. Dame and G. S. Kinneer are from Edmonton, and R. L. Strong comes from Regina.

Kimberley Dynamiters, who topped Smoke-Eaters from the British Columbia hockey throne in their first year of senior hockey last season, have added H. B. Hilcott, of Northern Ontario, and H. J. Ferley, of Calgary. In addition, the Dynamiters will have Carl Redding, of Regina; Ken Moore, of Regina and Winnipeg; H. Brown, of Edmonton, and G. B. McGillivray, of Regina, four stalwarts who fell foul of the residence rule last season and were ineligible for Allan Cup play.

Rossland and Nelson, the other two teams in the Kootenay circuit, have also been busy strengthening their ranks and are expected to account for another dozen Prairie players.

Bill Burnett, former Regina Pats star, and a former teammate, Bill Metcalfe, head a list of fifteen Prairie hopefuls seeking berths on Vancouver teams.

Ineligible, through the residence rule, for competition in Allan Cup play this season, but Coast hockey mentors have an eye to the future. Players of proven ability will be picked out for next season when they can meet residence qualifications and, perhaps, be instrumental in bringing the Far West province its first Canadian senior hockey crown.

NO PLACE IN LEAGUE FOR THE BAMBINO

No Opportunity in American League for Ruth—Too
Big a Gamble

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP).—It has become increasingly evident, if not absolutely definite, that there is no opportunity in the American League for Babe Ruth to fulfill his ambition to launch a career in that league.

What will happen after 1935, when Joe McCarthy's contract runs out with the Yankees and perhaps other vacancies develop, remains to be seen. Meanwhile, the Babe is in the position of having burned his bridges behind him, with no place to go after he finishes a trip around the world. He had publicly declared himself out of the players ranks, which makes it official, but it is difficult to imagine his retirement, even if there isn't a manager's job available. Besides, the great man can always change his mind.

In rapid succession within the past fortnight, the possibility of Ruth becoming manager of the Philadelphia, Boston or Washington clubs, in the American League, has been discussed and discarded. It is not secret that most major league managers consider the Babe too big a gamble, as a manager, to justify the substantial investment required in signing him up.

HAS BACKGROUND

"Ruth unquestionably has the background, the personality, and many of the qualifications essential to become a successful major league manager," one club owner explained recently. "There should be a spot where he could have a chance to show what he can do with a ball club, but, frankly, I don't know anybody willing to undertake the experiment. The big question concerns Ruth's ability to maintain discipline. He has never had such responsibility. It is also doubtful whether he would take the time and exhibit patience necessary to building up a second division club. Meanwhile, the more successful teams do not need him."

Maroons Part With Four Men

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 31 (CP).—A regular windfall in the way of four new players befell the Windsor Bulldogs, of the International hockey circuit, late today, when Manager John Chick was advised by Tommy Gorman, of Montreal Maroons, that Gus Marker, Herb Cain, Bill McKenzie and Earl Robertson were en route here from the Maroon training camp at Winnipeg.

In addition to this quartette of puck chasers, Chick was informed that he could expect another pair, if present plans were carried to completion. Among the latter will be either Goalies Alex Connell or Dave Kerr; unless Bulldogs express a preference for Robertson, who is also a goalie.

FRENCHMEN VICTORIOUS

Canadiens Nose Out Bruins
in Overtime Hockey Fix-ture, 7 to 6

MONCTON, N.B., Oct. 31 (CP).—A goal by Wilder Larochelle with but three minutes remaining of the overtime period gave Montreal Canadiens a 7-6 victory over Boston Bruins here tonight, and evened matters up in their pre-National Hockey League exhibition series.

Boston won the first game at Saint John Monday night, 2-1. The teams will move on to Halifax for the third game of the series.

Larochelle played a brilliant game for the Habitanis, nothing another goal besides the winning overtime counter. Pete Lepine, veteran centre on the new front rank; Aurel Joliat, left-winger on the No. 1 line with Lepine and Larochelle; Joe Lamb, who came to Canadiens from the Bruins this year in a deal for Johnny Gagnon, and the Mantha brothers, Sylvio and George, notched the other Canadian goals.

BRUIN SCORERS

Boston's six counters came from the sticks of Dit Clapper, Johnny Gagnon, Marty Barry, Peggy O'Neill and Nels Stewart, who tallied a brace. Barry, Joliat and S. Mantha figured prominently on the assist column.

The teams finished the first period on even terms at 3-3, but in the second Boston played bruising hockey to forge into a 4-5 lead. A clean-up goal by George Mantha in the third evened matters up again and paved the way for Larochelle to snatch the hero's role and win the game in the overtime. The little speedball slipped between Eddie Shore and Babe Siebert on the Bruin defence and slammed a low rifle shot past Tiny Thompson.

Little Bedtime Stories

What Farmer Brown's Boy Saw

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Farmer Brown and Farmer Brown's Boy were studying and studying the ground down in the cornfield on the edge of the Green Meadows. As soon as he was sure that they were not chasing him Happy Jack Squirrel sat upon a fence post to watch them. At first he couldn't make out what they were doing, but suddenly it popped into his head just what they were doing. Farmer Brown's Boy was squatting down and pointing to something and Happy Jack did not need to hear him say: "It's just like the footprint of a baby." To know that they had found the tracks of Bobby Coon.

Yes, sir, that is just what had happened. First they had surprised Happy Jack stuffing himself with bright, yellow corn and had started to chase him out of the cornfield. At least Farmer Brown's Boy had. Farmer Brown himself had laughed and shouted, "Go it, Bushy Tail! I guess there's corn enough for us to spare you a little."

And just then Farmer Brown's Boy had stopped running. You see, he had tramped about over the Green Meadows and through the Green Forest so much that he has learned how to use his eyes, which is something that many little boys and girls never do learn, and though he was watching Happy Jack whom he was chasing, he was not so foolish as not to look where his feet were going, and so he saw those queer little footprints in some soft earth. He forgot all about Happy Jack right away.

"They've been made this very morning and only just a little while ago," said he as he and Farmer Brown began to follow them.

"I guess you're right, son," replied Farmer Brown. "I reckon that Mr. Coon is somewhere in this cornfield this very minute. If we had Bowser the Hound here we'd soon find out."

"I'll go back to the house and get him," exclaimed Farmer Brown's Boy eagerly.

"No," said Farmer Brown; "we haven't time. Perhaps we can track him and find him ourselves."

So slowly and carefully so as not to make a bit of noise they began to follow Bobby Coon's funny little footprints which looked so much like a baby's. Happy Jack Squirrel, sitting on the fence post and watching them, felt his heart sink way down as he thought of Bobby Coon somewhere over in the middle of the cornfield not knowing that danger was anywhere near. What could Happy Jack do to let Bobby Coon know? He didn't dare go over there himself. No, sir, he simply didn't dare. Just then some of the Merry Little Breezes of Old Mother West Wind came dancing along. Happy Jack had a happy thought. He would send them to warn Bobby Coon.

So Happy Jack called to the Merry Little Breezes, and when they had gathered around him he told them as fast as his tongue could fly how Bobby Coon was over in the middle of the cornfield and didn't know anything about his danger. The Merry Little Breezes waited just long enough to understand what it all meant, then away they raced to try and find Bobby Coon and warn him. Happy Jack gave a great sigh of relief as he watched them go.

DOCK WORKER BIG WINNER

Carpenter Wins $150,000
in Irish Sweep—Others
Are Much Richer

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP).—Unaware he was $150,000 richer through Wychwood Abbot's victory in the Cambridgehire Handicap, "Ming Macnesson" today hammered on—or whatever a dock carpenter for New York City does in the course of his labor.

"Ming Macnesson"—curious hybrid of Scotch and Chinese in that appellation—is a "non de plume." Peter Dolan is the man who, with two other residents of New York City, held a ticket on the winning horse.

A neighbor of Dolan answered the telephone. He was greatly excited that sudden riches should come so close to home.

"Dolan is a fine fellow and I'm sure glad he won," said the neighbor, Bernard Caulfield. "He doesn't know of his good luck. He's working on a dock somewhere. He's a dock carpenter for the city."

"He is a swell neighbor—quiet-like and never says much. I feel pretty good about this," Dolan, explained Caulfield, is a father with two step-children, daughters, ages twenty-two and twenty-three.

Victory brought defeat to Frances Horowitz of Brooklyn, listed as the holder of a ticket worth $75,000 on the horse that came in second.

She sold the ticket before the race—for $6,000.

"If I'd only kept it I'd have won $69,000 more," she wailed.

WINS $50,000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP).—Fifty thousand dollars richer as a result of the Irish sweepstakes, Mrs. Mary Booth, thirty-year-old Treasury Department employee, told associates who flocked to her office with congratulations today that she was going to keep right on at her job.

"I've bought sweepstakes tickets several times before," she said. "I paid $2.50 for it and pooled my interests with my father, Harry S. Remington, a United States marine, stationed in the office of the Secretary of the Navy, so he will get half of it."

Remington, a sergeant-major, calmly kept on eating his lunch when he received word of the result. "I'll put the money in the bank and forget about it," he said.

Remington has been in the marines twenty-seven years.

CANADIANS UNLUCKY

DUBLIN, Oct. 31 (CP).—No Canadians drew tickets in the Irish hospitals sweepstakes on today's Cambridgehire Handicap on either the first, second or third horses, which carry major prizes.

Ask Your Doctor First,

Mother

Before You Give Your Child an Unknown Remedy to Take

According to any doctor you may ask, there is one duty every mother owes her child. The duty of asking him before giving her child an unknown remedy to take.

Yet, unfortunately, every day mothers violate this simple rule. Take the advice of unqualified persons—instead of their doctors—on remedies for their children. If they knew what the scientists know, they would never take the chance.

Doctors Say PHILLIPS' For Your Child

When it comes to the very frequently used "milk of magnesia," authorities stand solidly together. Ask your own doctor about this. For over 50 years, doctors, whose life work it is to study the safety and quality of drugs that go into the home, have said "PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia for your child."

For "Phillips'" is the result of over a half century of continuous laboratory experiment. And is rated among the finest products that science knows in its field, the kind of product your child deserves.

So Always Say "Phillips'" when you buy. And see that your child gets what you ask for—Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Do this for your own peace of mind.

Also in Tablet Form:

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at all drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Stock and Bond Prices Firm at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP).—Stocks held a steady pace today as October made its exit quietly in financial markets.

The share list firmed in late trading, but final prices were no better than irregular. Transfers dwindled to 416,000 shares, the smallest since October 3.

Eastman Kodak rose more than 2 points on the news the company had liquidated large silver holds.

Timken Roller Bearing advanced nearly a point.

U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and American Rolling Mill edged fractionally higher. Santa Fe, Pennsylvania and New York Central were among rails improving slightly, aided by indications that rail traffic was holding fairly well in the face of seasonal influences toward decline.

American Can, American Telephone, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, General Electric, General Motors and other stocks of that calibre showed only small changes up and down at the finish.

All bond market categories were somewhat irregular today and trading was relatively dull.

The foreign section was fairly steady.

Virginia Vane Says:

OPEN WFARE FOR ENEMY WHOSE INFLUENCE THREATENS TO RUIN MARRIED LIFE

Dear Virginia Vane: I am very much in love with my husband and want him to be happy, but my problem is a difficult one.

My husband is young for his age and has always been very much under the influence of an older man, who is far from being his best friend. This man is extremely intelligent and knows how to impress others with his great learning. He is always interfering in our lives and often overrides my own suggestions and persuades my husband to accept his.

The position is humiliating for me. I am not unintelligent and I hate having to take a back seat while this older man arranges my husband's life for him. He is very clever because he doesn't come right out and say what he means to do, but he manages subtly to get my husband to do just what he wants. I cannot enjoy the feeling that he is the biggest influence in the life of the man I love.

Can you tell me how to become adjusted to this situation?—D.F.

Bring your enemy out into the open and make him fight fair. He undoubtedly knows of your dislike of him—and if he's at all maliciously inclined, it amuses him to see you trying to fight off his influence. So long as you let him go on hinting and making subtle little suggestions—just so long will he get away with his tactics.

But if you bring him to terms, he'll be in a weaker position. That kind of schemer doesn't like to talk facts. He prefers his own round-about methods of attack. He won't like being told by a level-headed young woman that either he must stop interfering with her married life, or she will definitely make trouble for him.

For, of course, you can make trouble, D.F. You don't want to but it's within your power to do so.

Your husband really loves you. He is happy with you. If you made him unhappy—if you told him that you had to leave him because of this unpleasant influence, he would experience a change of feeling toward his devoted friend.

And the older man would be definitely uncomfortable with a reproachful and heart-broken young husband on his hands. He doesn't want to be made responsible for a domestic tragedy.

Your strength lies in your knowledge that if you were driven to it, you could punish your enemy effectively. Remind him of this. Ask him to behave as an ordinary friend should—to remove his influence from your married life.

I am sure that open warfare with this type of subtle intriguer is by far the best method for scaring him off permanently.

FOND MOTHER WHO IGNORES HUSBAND MAKES MISTAKE

Mrs. P.D.: I am afraid that my sympathy goes out to your husband. I know that you have honestly meant to do your best—and that in giving so much devotion to your son, you have acted as you believed a good mother should.

But you should have remembered that your situation was complicated. You couldn't expect your husband to feel toward his step-son as he would toward a child of his own. Therefore, from the first it was necessary for you to exert more than ordinary tact in dealing with your men-folk.

You didn't think of that. You just went on being a good mother for all you were worth, and confidently expecting your husband to enjoy the spectacle of your wonderful motherhood.

Now a great many wives make that mistake—even with the fathers of their children. They wrap themselves up in their offspring and count on their lords and masters to enjoy life chiefly through appreciating what wonderful mothers they've married. It doesn't work.

No man is ever as thoroughly engrossed in his children as is their mother. No man is perfectly satisfied with a wife who turns into an all-mother and forgets about being the fascinating creature her husband married.

Consider, then, how much more dangerous it was for you, Mrs. P.D., to go in for motherhood so completely, leaving outside the man who could never share your feeling for your son. Can you wonder that he has gradually turned bitter on the subject? And can't you see that your constant quarrels with him on the subject of your boy were caused primarily by his early jealousy and your blindness to it.

Admit that you've been wrong. That will clear up your mind and make things easier for you. Tell your husband, then, that you can at last see his side of the story and that you're willing to co-operate with him in trying to straighten out this triangle situation.

He will undoubtedly tell you of many occasions on which you've hurt him and made him feel lonely and unwanted. Before this, his pride and your calm unawareness of his state of mind have conspired to hide the truth.

Now find out exactly how you can help. With resentment wiped out of your mind you'll be far better able to cope with a husband who truly needs sympathy and understanding.

Tells Before Notary

MR. S. SANSONE

Suffering from indigestion, Mr. Sansone, 44 Front Street West, Toronto, at last got complete relief. He wants to help others and consented to tell of his experience in a statement, sworn before a notary so that everyone can be sure it's true. He states, "For a long time I suffered badly from indigestion. I tried everything but I continued to get worse. A friend of mine recommended Fruit-A-Tives and after taking them for a short time I began to feel much better. It was not long before I was entirely well and could eat anything without pain or after effects."
